IN THE BEE TO-DAY

WEATHER.

The official local forecast for to-day and to-morrow: Fair, cooler, possibly light rain Saturday evening.

Observer Hagen says: "An area of "high" pressure is central this morning over Nebraska, and has caused the temperature in the west to fall 10 and 15 degrees."

Only three stations reported rainfall this morning, Galveston, Jacksonville and Charleston reported light showers. Very little rain has fallen this week in any part of the country.

Clear and cooler weather may be looked for until Saturday, when it is expected that this "high" now in Nebraska will have moved far enough east to cause the temperature to fall and to precipitate the moisture now in the air, and may cause light rain to fall here Saturday evening, and cooler Sunday."

The highest temperature yesterday was 50 degrees; the lowest, 34 degrees, occurred this morning.

Forecast for western New York—Fair; westerly winds; slightly colder.

For Ohio and Indiana—Fair to-day; threatening weather and rain on Saturday: winds shifting to easterly; slight changes in temperature.

For Illinois—Increasing cloudiness and rain on Saturday; northeasterly winds; slightly warmer in northern, stationary temperature in southern portion.

For Michigan—Fair to-day; showers by Saturday night; northerly winds; stationary temperature.

STRONG LANGUAGE USED.

Paris, Dec. 11.—Druing debate in the chamber of deputies on the relations between church and state, there was a tumultous scene during which Paul De Cassalnac called M. Floquet a liar.

The two men have named seconds who are arranging a duel. MM. Debaudey, D'Asson and Dejerni also indulged in gross abuse of M. Floquet.

THE WILL ADMITTED.

New York, Dec. 11.—Surrogate Ransom to-day admitted to probate the will of Richard S. Newcombe, the lawyer, whose daughter, Ida Florine Lederer, filed objections alleging undue influence and mental incapacity. Mrs. Lederer was disinherited by her father.

Suit Filed To-Day Against Justin McCarthy.

Harrington, Redmond and Others Want Him to Let Go of the Money Now in the Bank

London, Dec. 11.—The writ sued out by Messrs. Harrington, Redmond and other Parnellites was served upon Justin McCarthy to-day.

The court is petitioned to remove McCarthy from the trusteeship of the Paris fund and appoint a successor. The writ names Mrs. Parnell as the co-defendant, in her capacity as administratrix of the Parnell estate.

Mr. McCarthy claims that the English court has no jurisdiction. He has a suit pending against banker Munroe to recover the money and does not doubt that it will be successfully terminated within a few months.

IT'S TOUGH ON JIM,

But It's Ten Times Tougher on Ben.

Czar Reed Expresses His Innermost Opinions

Of the President and the Secretary of State.

Large Estimates for Lake Appropriations.

Buckeye Boys Gathered at the National Capitol to Rope in all Stray Offices That May be Found Searching for the Man.

Washington, Dec. 11.—Ex-Speaker Reed takes no pains to conceal his intense dislike of Mr. Blaine and Mr. Harrison. He was in his most sarcastic vein yesterday when talking to a group of prominent republicans in the lobby of the capitol. One of the party was bewailing the loss of the house of representatives.

"But we still have South America," said Mr. Reed, winking significantly. "As long as our great secretary of state holds onto Paraguay and Patagonia and Costa Rica, we can afford to give up the house of representatives. I understand that in some of these countries in which Mr. Blaine is opening markets, the people occasionally wear collars, and in some parts of Brazil they wear shirts on Sunday. It will be a great stroke of statesmanship if Mr. Blaine secures complete control of such markets."

Then the conversation took another turn and one of the party asked Mr. Reed if he thought Harrison or Blaine would secure the presidential nomination. "I suppose so," he responded.

"And what do you think of their respective merits?"

Mr. Reed shrugged his shoulders and shook his head as he concluded: "There is not much choice, but I am inclined to think it is better to keep a sick man in the white house than to put a dead man there."

Among the Ohio democrats now here to get or have gotten places under the house organization are Leslie MacPherson, formerly of Columbus; W. H. Pennell, an ex-member of the state legislature, who has been given a place as bookkeeper in the office of the sergeant-at arms at $1,800 a year. George Neal, sergeant-at-arms of the last Ohio house, wants the journal clerkship, worth $3,500; George Foster, assistant sergeant-at-arms, wants nothing less than a $2,000 place. Homer Dunn, of Jackson; Nicholas Hockey, of Massillon, a porter in the state senate; Mr. Burns, of Columbus; George Gumm, of Lima, and Chief Clerk Lahey, of the Ohio labor commissioner's office, all expect places. Joe Dowling, of Dayton, who was state oil inspector, is working for some friends at home.

To Improve the Lakes.

The estimates for river and harbor appropriations contain the following items: For Lakes Erie and Ontario—Buffalo harbor, $400,000; Charlotte harbor, $75,000; Dunkirk harbor, $50,000; Ogdensburg harbor, $80,000; Oswego harbor, $100,000; Port Chester harbor, $20,000; Port Jefferson harbor, $45,000; Sackett's harbor, $50,000; Tonawanda harbor and Niagara river, $200,000; Wilson harbor, $27,455; Erie harbor, $60,000; Ashtabula harbor, $150,000; mouth of Black river, $58,000; Cleveland harbor, $444,250; Fairport harbor, $64,400; Huron harbor, $25,600; Port Clinton harbor, $20,000; Sandusky harbor, $41,712; Toledo harbor, $640,000; Vermillion harbor, $8,000; removing shoals from Detroit to Lake Erie, $50,000; St Mary's river, $2,000,000; Hay Lake Channel, $500,000; St. Clair Flats Ship canal, $136,250.

Under the head of miscellaneous, Gen. Casey, chief of the engineer corps, recommended that the appropriation for the survey of northern and northwestern lakes be increased from $12,000 to $53,000, and gives the following reasons for it:

"This increased appropriation is asked for in order that certain special areas may be re-examined for the benefit of the enormous commerce now upon the lakes. The draught and size of the vessels carrying the commerce has considerably increased in the last few years, and will again be increased when the new lock in St. Mary's river, now under construction, is completed. Localities deemed perfectly safe for navigation when the maximum draft of vessels was 12 feet, are regarded with suspicion when the draft is one-half or more greater. Consequently certain special re-examinations should be made."

The estimates for new lighthouses, fog signals, etc., on the great lakes are identical with the recommendations of the lighthouse board, which were published in the Bee some months ago.

The secretary, however, grades the recommendations into three classes, viz.: indispensable, necessary, and desirable.

The first class, which may be all that this congress will allow, is as follows: Buffalo breakwater fog signal, $4,300; Escanaba fog signal, $1,100; Pier Head fog bell, $1,000; Grassy Point range lights, $8,000; Oswego fog signal, $4,300; patrol steamer for St. Mary's river, upper range lights, $2,000; Superior Bay lights, $1,200.

As the $60,000 appropriated by the last congress for a light station at Eleven Foot Shoal was insufficient, it is now proposed to use that sum for lightships similar to those on Simmons' Reef, and congress is asked to give permission.

FOSTER'S STORMS ON DECK.

Terrible Gales Sweeping the British Isles.

No Loss of Life Reported, but Much Damage to Property Was Done and Much Suffering Caused.

London, Dec. 11.—Another severe gale has swept over the British Isles, causing an immense amount of damage almost everywhere. Houses were unroofed, chimneys blown down and a number of wrecks are strewn along the coast.

Happily, up to the present, there has been no loss of life reported; but there is much additional suffering among those who have already lost by the half dozen serious storms which have marked the past year as being an unprecedented one in the weather history of this side of the Atlantic.

Owing to the fact that telegraph wires are down in several sections, communication with those parts is momentarily interrupted.

OCEAN MARINE.

New York, Dec. 11.—Arrived—Abyssinia from Liverpool; Noordland from Antwerp.

WAS A FALSE REPORT.

Correspondents Are Exaggerating the Trouble in Chili.

Valparaiso, Dec. 11.—(Via Galveston)—The statement recently sent to the London Times by its correspondent at Santiago, to the effect that Minister Egan had, during the recent correspondence between the United States and the government at Santiago, sent several insulting notes to Minister of Foreign Affairs Matta, which had caused a proposition to be presented to the Chilian congress looking to the suppression of the Chilian legation at Washington, which proposition had only been defeated by the government exerting its influence to the utmost, is unqualifiedly false."

The matter has not even been discussed by the government or by congress and all indications point to a desire on the part of congress to continue the amicable relations which have existed for so long a time with the United States.

FANNY DAVENPORT.

Her Throat Troubling Her So Much That She Fails to Appear.

Chicago, Dec. 11.—Doctors Hulburt and Jackson, who have been in attendance upon Fanny Davenport since her arrival in the city, refused to permit her to appear at the Columbia theater last night.

Miss Davenport has had another attack of the illness which overcame her in Kansas City last month, but her condition is not thought to be serious.

Miss Davenport has a very sore throat. By giving up to-night's performance her physicians assure her that they could treat it so she could certainly appear to-morrow night.

NO STRING TO HIM.

Turner Will Do the Fair Thing in Office.

Tammany Does Not Propose to Dictate Who Shall Fill the Minor Offices.

New York, Dec. 11.—"Iceman" Turner, the new doorkeeper of the house of representatives, reached his home late Wednesday. He was followed from Washington by a story to the effect that he had come here on a summons from Richard Croker who was going to dictate to Turner the distribution of all the patronage that falls to the doorkeeper.

Mr. Turner was seen last night by a Times reporter and said he had received no summons from Croker and that the whole story was absurd. The doorkeeper of the house has no tenure of office, said he, and if he failed to distribute places fairly the democrats could turn him out of office the next morning. He says he proposes to distribute the patronage fairly.

BILLY M'GLORY.

New York, Dec. 11.—Billy McGlory's dive, called the Irving hotel, at Fourteenth street and Irving place, which was raided last week, was again in full blast last night and as a result another raid was made. Sixteen prisoners were taken, among whom was the famous McGlory himself.

REMAINS OF GEN. GRANT.

Their Removal to Washington Again Discussed.

Plumb Will Bring the Matter up in the Senate and Expects Favorable Action by That Body.

Washington, Dec. 11.—The removal of the remains of Gen. Grant from New York to the national cemetery of Arlington will be proposed again during the present session by Senator Plum.

He proposes to introduce at an early date a concurrent resolution providing for the removal of the remains and to ask that it lie upon the table.

He will not ask to have it referred to any committee, but will keep it on the table until a favorable occasion for its consideration and will then call it up and ask for its passage by the senate.

He has no doubt that it will pass by a safe majority as it did before, but he does not pretend to express an opinion as to its fate in the house.

It will be likely to encounter strong opposition from the members, as it did in the last congress.

SMOKELESS POWDER.

Washington, Dec. 11.—The new navy smokeless powder was tried in a four-inch rapid-fire gun for the first time at the Indian Head proving grounds Wednesday with highly satisfactory results. The trial fully demonstrated that the powder is as much a success for guns of a larger calibre as it was before shown to be for three and six pounders.

INSANE IN THE STREETS.

New York, Dec. 11.—A well-dressed man about 50 years old, with plenty of money in his pockets, was taken violently insane last evening on the street. From papers found on his person he is believed to be H. S. Provost, of Burroughs, Ga.

WITHOUT A RUDDER.

The Wetmore Picked Up on the Pacific.

Barring the Accident She Would Have Made a Wonderful Voyage Around the Horn.

Astoria, Ore., Dec. 11.—The first whaleback to visit the Pacific ocean has met with a quarter of a million mishap before completing her initial voyage.

The British steamship Zambesi from Hong Kong arrived here last night, having in tow the disabled whaleback steamer Charles W. Wetmore.

Capt. Edwards, of the Zambesi, said: "We left Victoria, B. C., for the Columbia river last Sunday. At 11 o'clock Wednesday morning, when off the mouth of the Columbia river, we sighted a singular looking steamer, and steaming down we found it was the whaleback propeller Wetmore, flying signals of distress. She was then about three or four miles off Amook rocks, south of the entrance of the Columbia river.

Though able to steam she had no way of steering, the rudder having dropped off, leaving nothing but the rudder frame I got a hawser out and had her in easy tow the remainder of the day and night."

Capt. Edwards, of the Zambesi, has entered a protest, and claims damages before Vice Consul Sherry. The hawser bitts of the Zambesi were carried away. Capt. Edwards' salvage will be one-third of the value of the vessel and cargo. Placing that at $600,000, his claim on the part of the owners, officers and crew of the Zambesi will aggregate $200,000.

Capt. Hastings, of the Wetmore, says that he began to lose his rudder two weeks ago when off the Galapagos islands. It dropped off as the rivets fell out, but he hoped to make his destination, Port Townsend.

Under the circumstances he was very glad to get to Columbia river. The whaleback was out out 83 days from Philadelphia. Capt. Hastings is negotiating for a steamer here to tow the Wetmore to Port Townsend.

THE BALL NOW ROLLING.

Sherman Has Opened Up His Headquarters,

And the Faithful Are Looking for the Sweeteners.

Undue Haste Used by Republicans to Get the Iden-Gaumer Case Before the Supreme Court.

Columbus, Dec. 11.—Although no formal announcement has been made of the fact, the Sherman headquarters are practically opened up in this city.

As yet the grocery attachment is lacking, but the quiet and sedate Capt. Donaldson is in charge of the senator's headquarters, at the American hotel, while the affable Chairman Hahn is the guiding star at the main office of the combination, at the Neil house.

It is understood that the cigars, etc., are soon to be on tap, and then the machine will be perfect running order. Every night, and for that matter nearly every hour in the day, there is a conference of the Sherman supporters going on in one or the other of the hotels.

The state is full of emissaries doing missionary work for their chief, and they drop in daily to make their reports, unless sent on a mission to a remote part of the state where the distance prevents them from making the trip in 24 hours. Mr. Laylin, of Huron, the Sherman candidate for speaker, was here to-day and was closeted with Chairman Hahn and other leaders of the faction for several hours.

It was at these numerous conferences that the five points in the Iden-Gaumer contest were discussed and the line of action decided upon. Although Mr. Iden disclaims being pledged on the senatorship, it is a significant fact that all of those engaged in pushing the matter before the supreme court in his behalf are the staunchest supporters of Senator Sherman.

The latter's friends have only been consulted as to the best method of procedure to draw the supreme court into the vortex of politics, instead of leaving the question to the senate, the proper body to pass upon the qualifications of its own members.

As indicated, the petition in mandamus was approved at last night's conference of the Sherman managers and filed in the supreme court. The points in the petition are as outlined in the Bee, and ask the court to declare Iden elected without considering the vote of Lincking, next to the most populous county in the senatorial district. In filing the petition there was introduced a new rule of practice, and this is the result of the undue haste of the republican managers to steal the seat of a democrat before the general assembly meets and add another vote for Sherman in the caucus.

"The case is styled "George Iden against the Muskingum county election board" and no opportunity was afforded a single member of the board to set up a defense. The usual custom is to file a petition in the supreme court and then have a time set for the preliminary hearing. But this was not followed in the Iden case. The exigencies of the occasion did not permit the usual formalities.

Attorney Albey succeeded in getting the attention of the court and at once went into an argument on the merits of the case, quoting from authorities to support the view of the case set forth in the petition, telling about the disputed tallies and explaining things generally from the republican side.

All this was done prior to the filing of the papers with the clerk of the supreme court. The argument was completed, the judges had descended from the bench and retired to the consultation room before the papers were made a record in the court. It is presumed that since the case is now out of the hands of Mr. Sherman's managers and in the jurisdiction of the court the other side will be given an opportunity to inspect the papers and have a chance for a hearing.

Chairman Watson, of the Delaware county republican central committee and a number of others from that town are here working up sentiment in favor of gerrymandering the congressional district. The gentlemen are opposed to having Delaware tacked to a district with Franklin, and have a plan to re-establish what is known as the old Cooper district, including Delaware, Knox, Marion, Morrow and Union. This is the first opposition to the plan to put the capital county of the state into a republican district.

NO MONEY TO HANG HIM.

Fitzgerald's Execution Fund Does Not Exist.

Watching the Doomed Man to Prevent Him From Cheating the Gallows by Suicide.

Youngstown, O., Dec. 11.—Will William Fitzgerald be executed in the penitentiary next Friday morning or will he escape the law by suicide? is the question that is being largely discussed here. It is known that the condemned is a man of fertile resources who abhors an ignominious death on the scaffold. After his conviction here the prisoner said:

"The court may sentence me to be executed, but I was never born to be hung on the scaffold and die the death of a dog. I never read of an execution that it did not fill me with horror, and I could almost feel the mental torture suffered by the prisoner while standing on the trap waiting for the signal to launch him into eternity.

"It is terrible and I'll never go through it. If it so happens that I am left the only alternative of being hung or taking my life, I will quickly decide on suicide. The only thing that would cause me to hesitate would be the sorrow of my wife.

"Yet I feel that she would rather know that I had pursued that course than to have me hustled out on a platform bound like a slave and left dangling at the end of a rope until the spirit had burst its tenement of clay. When all hope of a longer lease of life is gone I will quickly decide what course to pursue."

An unparalleled state of affairs in connection with the approaching execution was discovered to-day. The fund for the payment of the expenses of judicial executions, which is maintained by legislative appropriations, has been exhausted, and there is no money with which to hang the man.

The expense of a hanging usually amounts to more than $100, as it is customary for the state to furnish a new suit of clothes for the murderer to die in, a coffin, the funeral expenses, and all other incidentals of his taking off. It will be necessary to create a deficiency in the execution fund in order to hang Fitzgerald, and the state deficiency commission will be called together for that purpose.

SAFE IN HONG KONG.

London, Dec. 11.—A dispatch from Hong Kong announces the arrival there yesterday of the Canadian Pacific steamship Empress, of Japan.

ON TRIAL FOR ARSON.

Wm. Gibson Charged With Burning the Dupont Property.

Wilmington, Dec. 11.—The taking of testimony in the case of Wm. J. Gibbons, on trial here for burning the barn of Francis G. Dupont, has been completed. The prosecution made a strong case against the prisoner. Gibbons was the first man seen near the barn the evening that it was burned, and after that he repeatedly said that "I did it." He also made boasts and savage threats of what he would do to the Duponts and their property.

BURIED LIKE A BEAST.

Chillicothe, O., Dec. 11.—An aged negro by the name of Philip Raney died at his home, a little shanty on the outskirts of the city.

Hardly had the breath left his body when the members of his household carried him out and dumped his remains into a hole previously dug in anticipation of the event.

The whole affair was conducted with such an evident desire to save funeral expenses that a purse will probably be raised and the old man re-interred with a greater regard to decency.

IT WAS A LOVER'S SCHEME,

And it Got a Fresh Youth Into the Penitentiary.

Impersonated a United States Officer, Arrested the Girl and Released Her on Promise of Marriage.

Columbus, O., Dec. 11.—George Harrington, whose home is in Fostoria, was convicted in the United States court here to-day of impersonating a federal officer, and sentenced to 18 months in the penitiary.

His case is a peculiar one. He was in love with a girl named Dora Somers, of Ross county, and she did not reciprocate his affection.

To compel her to marry him he impersonated a government detective, arrested her on the charge of counterfeiting, and then offered to save her from prosecution upon the condition that she accept him.

The girl had done nothing wrong, and was ignorant of even the nature of the charge against her, but was so frightened that she agreed to marry him.

Before the day for the wedding rolled around, the girl exposed the scheme to compel her marriage to Harrington, and his arrest followed.

JUST A LITTLE BOOMLET,

Brought Back From Washington by Poe.

He Found Blaine in Prime Health and Thinks He Could Stand the Strain of Another Campaign.

Columbus, O., Dec. 11.—Auditor of State Poe has returned from a pleasure trip to Washington, taken after the continued arduous duties of a hot campaign and a season of hard work.

Mr. Poe intended to call on President Harrison and Secretary Foster, but was unable to see either. He was partially compensated for his disappointment by a very pleasant visit with Secretary Blaine, whom he called upon at his house. Mr. Blaine, says the auditor of state, is looking better than he ever saw him look before. His eye is bright, his wonderful memory is as keen as ever, and he is springy and elastic in his walk, and all his movements as a youth.

The secretary called to mind a ride he and Mr. Poe took in the great Ohio campaign of 1884, and even ran over the conversation had at that time, showing a keen interest in Ohio and Ohio politics, and reminiscencing in a pleased way over the wonderful ovations tendered him in every village and city of Ohio visited by him that year.

"Mr. Poe," said your correspondent, "do you think Mr. Blaine's health would stand the strain of another campaign?"

"Certainly," was the answer. "He is in as good health and is as vigorous in body as you or I, and neither of us is a weakling."

"Do you think he will be a candidate next year?"

"I don't know," was the answer. "I think, however, that the expressions of sentiment made to him by representatives of all parts of the country ought to convince him that it is his duty to make the trial."

SUIT FOR $25,000 DAMAGES.

Massillon, O., Dec. 11.—Charles A. Conrad, of this city, has Dbrought suit against the Wheeling & Lake Erie railroad company to recover $25,000 damages for injuries received in the wreck on that road at Bolivar last December. Mr. Conrad has been unable to attend to business ever since, and it is believed is permanently disabled.

BREWERY BURNED.

Philadelphia, Dec. 11.—The brewery of Christian Schmidt in Germantown took fire from the explosion of an ammonia pipe, and some of the buildings were entirely gutted. Loss $25,000; insured.

DAMAGED BY FIRE.

New York, Dec. 11.—The loss by the fire at Henry Batterman's store, Broadway and Flushing avenue, Brooklyn, early this morning, will not exceed $75,000; fully insured.

PLAYED A DUAL ROLE.

Officers Are After Mr. Hurlbert for Perjury.

The Gladys Evelyn Suit Has Not Yet Ended so Far as the Criminal Courts Are Concerned.

New York, Dec. 11.—The World's London dispatch says that Detective Baker of Scotland Yard is now in New York seeking to arrest Wm. H. Hurlbert, the well-known writer, on a charge of perjury alleged to have been committed during the trial of the suit for seduction brought against him by Gladys Evelyn.

It is stated in the dispatch that the British government has secured new and important evidence tending to show that Hurlbert and "Wilfred Murray," the personage on whom he laid the blame for Miss Evelyn's misleading, are identical.

The arrest, if made, will be under the provisions of the British-American treaty of 1889, which makes perjury an extraditable offense.

On inquiry at the Lennox hotel it is learned that Mr. and Mrs. Hurlbert left their place of residence about two weeks ago and gave no direction for the forwarding of their mail. So many letters have since arrived for Mr. Hurlbert that it has been necessary to send them to the dead letter office.

GUILTY OF HORSE STEALING.

Mt. Vernon, O., Dec. 11.—Michael Meldinger pleaded guilty to horse stealing, and was sentenced to one year in the penitentiary.

WILL CHILI SHOW FIGHT?

Wording of the President's Message Discussed.

Will He Ask Congress to Declare War?

The Southern Country Sends Word That They Have Done Nothing That They Feel Obliged to Apologize for.

Washington, Dec. 11.—That part of the president's message relating to Chili is regarded as significant. The president says that the reply of the Chilian authorities has been couched in an offensive tone.

He adds that unless Chili makes adequate and satisfactory response he will by special message bring the subject to the attention of congress for further action.

The only possible meaning of this statement is that congress would be asked to adopt a belligerent attitude toward Chili. Anything short of that could be conducted by the president without further authority from congress. He can adopt defensive measures in case of invasion, but the constitution prevents offensive steps without the sanction or direction of congress.

The only construction possible, therefore, is that the president will put upon congress the burden of adopting a warlike front in case Chili continues her offensive and defiant attitude.

For the last month all the available war vessels of the navy have been directed southward. Simultaneous with the president's message to congress the secretary of the navy will be able to make the statement that a powerful fleet has been mobilized in Chilian waters.

Chili's Reply.

New York, Dec. 11.—Under Valparaiso date the World to-day prints this:

The substance of President Harrison's statement of Chilian affairs was received to-day and is a subject of unusual comment. It is regarded by the Chilians as decidedly threatening a rupture, as it is not believed that the Chilian government will consent either to apology or any material indemnity.

The majority in congress is known to be opposed to any concession, and the Chilian government would find it difficult to carry the necessary support for any humiliating measures.

It is now no secret that the government is proceeding actively with war-like preparations and that artillery of the latest manufacture has been ordered from Germany.

The situation is complicated by Spain's demand for a large indemnity. The Chilians have always detested the Spaniards, and the hatred is quickened by this demand. They would challenge Spain if they had not the United States to deal with. Capt. Schley this evening declined to express any opinion for the public as to the president's message, but it was evident that he was pleased with it.

TAKES IT WITH SALT.

The Peculiar Case of Mary Stuckenborg Not Fully Explained.

Louisville, Ky., Dec. 11.—Mr. M. F. Coomes, of the faculty of the Kentucky School of Medicine, has concluded his investigation of the case of Mrs. Mary Stuckenborg, the woman who, while apparently in a cataleptic state, has exhibited upon her person the stigmata, or marks, of the passion of Christ. He refrains from indorsing the "manifestations" as genuine, but says that the phenomena may be due to the woman's intense mental concentration upon the passion and death of the Saviour.

A REVOLT REPORTED.

More Fighting Has Taken Place in Brazil.

Ten Persons Killed and Forty Wounded in a Conflict With the Government Troops.

Rio Janeiro, Dec. 11.—It is announced from Campos that there was a revolt there Tuesday against the Peixotto government. Ten were killed and 40 wounded in the conflict with the government troops.

The reports are conflicting as to which party is now in control.

In this city the police and military are very vigilant, and the situation is alarming, but no outbreak has yet occurred.

HARPER BADLY INJURED.

New York, Dec. 11.—Mr. Joseph W. Harper, of the publishing firm of Harper & Bros., was driving in Central park yesterday afternoon when his carriage came into collision with the brougham of Mrs. Ewels, of 75 East Fifty-sixth street. Mr. Harper was thrown from his wagon onto the hard road and severely injured.

A MINING CRAZE.

Del Norte, Col., Dec. 11.—There is one foot of snow at Creede, but the rush continues. Old mining men pronounce the Creede the wonder of the day. Every foot of ground suitable for testing purposes is being taken and all sorts and conditions of people are in camp.

CHESTER'S WALLS ARE FALLING.

London, Dec. 11.—The heavy stone walls by which the greater portion of the city of Chester is enclosed have subsided in some parts owing to their having been undermined by the furious gales and heavy floods of the past two days.

QUARTERMASTER HOPF OUT.

Columbus, O., Dec. 11.—Geo. Hopf, first lieutenant and quartermaster of the First infantry, Cincinnati, has tendered his resignation, which was accepted by the adjutant-general this morning.

JUDGE GLOVER DEAD.

Chicago, Dec. 11.—Judge Joseph Otis Glover, one of the pioneers of Illinois, and a friend of Lincoln and Douglas in the stirring times that preceded the war, has died at his residence, 2856 Michigan avenue, aged 81 years.

SAVED THEIR NECKS.

Ten Negroes Narrowly Escape the Gallows.

They Had Been Convicted of a Murder Which Another Negro Now Confesses He Committed.

Columbia, S. C., Dec. 11.—The necks of 10 negroes under sentence of death in Laurens county for the murder of Thornton Nance some months ago will be saved.

They were sentenced to hang on October last, but their attorney appealed to the supreme court and the motion to suspend the hearing in the supreme court and transfer it back to the circuit court was granted.

The ground for this motion was the confession of another negro, Henry Suber, to the effect that he alone was the murderer.

THE IRON ORE TRADE.

Complete Review of the Season Just Closed.

The Superior Output Much Less Than Last Year.

No Unsold Surplus on the Wharves at the Close of Navigation—Interesting Figures Fathered for Lake Men.

Cleveland, Dec. 11.—A statement of the Lake Superior ore shipments and the receipts at Lake Erie ports during 1891 and the quantity of ore in the docks at the close of the season of navigation has been compiled by the Iron Trade Review and published to-day.

The following interesting data is quoted: The year 1891 marked a decided restriction in the output of Lake Superior iron mines. This was the logical sequence of the "big year," 1890, when the production reached the enormous figure of more than 9,000,000 tons. The result has been a sharp reduction in the receipts at Lake Erie ports, though the sales for the year have been very large. Official figures show that there was on dock at Lake Erie ports at the opening of navigation, May 1, 1891, 2,400,000 gross tons of ore. The total receipts for the season of 1891 were 4,939,684 tons, making a total of 7,339,684 tons. Of this there were shipped to furnaces by rail from Lake Erie ports during the season of 1891, 3,831,195 tons, leaving on dock December 1, 3,508,489 tons, against 3,893,478 tons on dock at the close of navigation last year. This shows a decrease of ore on dock this year of 384,998 tons from last year at the same time.

Receipts at Lake Erie Ports.

The detailed figures as to the receipts at lower lake ports for the past nine years are given in tabular form, from which the following figures for 1890 and 1891 are taken:

| Port | 1890. | 1891. |
|---|---|---|
| Toledo | 164,295 | 191,105 |
| Sandusky | 174,596 | 106,907 |
| Huron | 1,200 | 14,910 |
| Lorain | 280,450 | 266,009 |
| Cleveland | 1,945,492 | 1,257,775 |
| Fairport | 1,096,408 | 699,434 |
| Ashtabula | 2,176,730 | 1,539,785 |
| Erie | 487,493 | 393,759 |
| Buffalo | 548,000 | 410,003 |
| Total | 6,874,661 | 4,939,684 |

The total receipts in 1883 were 1,692,689 tons; in 1884, 1,841,817 tons; in 1885, 1,503,989 tons; in 1886, 2,279,554 tons; in 1887, 3,439,198 tons; in 1888, 3,785,659 tons; in 1889, 5,836,344 tons. A table is also given, showing the stock of iron ore on hand at the close of navigation for the past nine years, from which the following figures are taken:

| Port | 1890. | 1891. |
|---|---|---|
| Toledo | 110,740 | 122,515 |
| Sandusky | 115,000 | 122,000 |
| Huron | 1,200 | 14,910 |
| Lorain | 210,237 | 276,812 |
| Cleveland | 1,209,467 | 1,114,762 |
| Fairport | 721,000 | 597,617 |
| Ashtabula | 1,151,347 | 93,957 |
| Erie | 248,741 | 252,916 |
| Buffalo | 125,732 | 119,000 |
| Total | 3,893,487 | 3,508,489 |

The total amount of ore on dock at the end of 1883 was 943,095 tons; at the end of 1884, 1,038,135 tons; at the end of 1885, 1,048,940 tons; at the end of 1886, 966,472 tons; at the end of 1887, 1,558,861 tons; at the of 1888, 1,848,555 tons; at the end of 1889, 2,607,106 tons. The Review continues:

Unsold Ore On Dock.

"The amount of unsold ore on dock at the close of the season this year we estimate at 60,000 tons, though much of this is of such grades and so scattered as to be practically unsalable. The proportion of sold and unsold stock at Lake Erie ports on the dates named has been as follows:

| Date. | Sold. | Unsold. | Per cent. Unsold. |
|---|---|---|---|
| December 1, 1884. | 388,135 | 650,000 | 62.6 |
| December 1, 1885. | 918,940 | 130,000 | 12.4 |
| December 1, 1886. | 896,472 | 70,000 | 7.2 |
| December 1, 1887. | 858,861 | 750,000 | 48.1 |
| December 1, 1888. | 1,681,255 | 167,300 | 9. |
| December 1, 1889. | 2,537,106 | 70,000 | 2.6 |
| December 1, 1890. | 3,893,487 | None | ... |
| December 1, 1891. | 3,448,489 | 60,000 | .017 |

"At the close of last year's shipping season, practically not a pound of unsold ore remained on dock. The sales of 1891 for Lake Erie delivery would, therefore, appear to be represented by the total receipts less 60,000 tons of unsold ore on dock, or a total of 4,879,684 tons. The total shipments from Lake Superior ports for 1891 were 6,490,205 tons, of which 4,939,684 tons were sent to Lake Erie ports, leaving 1,550,521 tons as the amount shipped to Chicago and other northwestern points up to December 1. The Chicago and northwestern shipments in 1890 were 1,271,186 tons, and in 1889 1,288,588 tons. The decrease in receipts at Lake Erie ports this year from 1890 has been 1,934,989 tons, or 28 per cent. The decrease in the amount on dock over 1890 is a trifle less than 10 per cent. As will be seen, the several ports retain the same relative rank as last year, Ashtabula leading, with Cleveland a close second, but the difference between these ports is a trifle wider this year than last. The receipts at Buffalo and Erie were 803,759 tons, of which probably something over 500,000 tons were for shipment to furnaces east of the Alleghenies, against 680,000 tons last year.

The Freight Rates on Ore.

"Ore rates from Escanaba to Lake Erie ports, which closed at $1.15, opened at 80 cents, and in a very short time dropped to 55 cents (the lowest rate in 1890 was 85 cents), advanced to $1.05 by September 24, declined in October to 65 cents, improved, and closed the season at $1.30. The rates from the head of Lake Superior showed the same changes. During last winter charters were made from Ashland at $1, but by the opening of navigation in the spring rates were down to 90 cents, and later declined to 80 cents. From this point there was an advance to $1.40, then a decline to 95 cents, and the closing charters were made at $1.40."

Of the shipments of Lake Superior iron ore for 1891 the Review will say:

"By the use of the wires we are enabled to present herewith a close estimate of the shipments of iron ore from Lake Superior ports for 1891 up to December 8, which practically closed the season. The subjoined estimate is telegraphed us by Mr. George A. Newett, the able and painstaking editor of Iron Ore, Ishpeming, Mich., and may be taken as very close to actual figures (comparison being had with similar figures for 1890):

Shipments of Iron Ore From Lake Superior Ports.

| | 1891. | 1890. |
|---|---|---|
| Escanaba | 3,063,000 | 3,714,682 |
| Marquette | 1,190,000 | 1,397,395 |
| Ashland | 1,253,326 | 2,123,856 |
| Gladstone | 191,358 | 91,091 |
| Two Harbors | 885,521 | 826,063 |
| Total | 6,490,205 | 8,063,067 |

| | Gain, '91. | Loss, '91. |
|---|---|---|
| Escanaba | ...... | 654,652 |
| Marquette | ...... | 207,395 |
| Ashland | ...... | 870,530 |
| Gladstone | 100,267 | ........ |
| Two Harbors | 59,458 | ........ |
| Total | 159,725 | 1,732,587 |

"The net increase in Lake Superior shipments in 1891 from 1890 is 1,572,862 tons, and the total shipments for 1891 are within less than 10,000 tons of the amount heretofore predicted by the Iron Trade Review, viz.: 6,500,000 tons. Of course the above totals do not represent the production of the Lake Superior mines for the years stated. In the year 1890 the total production was 9,003,701 tons, or about 800,000 tons in excess of the water shipments."

MILLS CONFINED TO HIS ROOM.

The Texan Overcome by the Work of the Canvass.

New York, Dec. 11.—A special to the Recorder from Washington says that Mr. Mills has been confined to his room at Willard's since the organization of the house. He was overworked and nervous then, and only by a great effort of will was he able to be present at the initiation of his successful rival into office. He is now prostrated with malaria and was delirious yesterday. His friends are decidedly anxious as to the outcome of his illness.

The reports that Mr. Mills would decline all active participation in the work of the house have not received an authoritative denial on account of Mr. Mills' illness.

TWO SIDED TARIFF LAW.

Canada Imposes a Duty on Newfoundland Fish.

That Province Retaliates by Putting an Extraordinary Tariff on the Dominion Food Products.

Ottawa, Ont., Dec. 11.—Commercial war has been declared by the Dominion government against the colony of Newfoundland.

Hitherto the fish and fish oils shipped from that colony to the Dominion have been admitted free of duty. Hereafter duty will be levied and collected upon such products.

This course has been decided on by Mr. Abbott and his colleagues as a measure of retaliation against Newfoundland for the refusal of that colony to permit Canadian fishing vessels to take or purchase fish in Newfoundland waters.

The Free Press (liberal) discussing the situation says editorially:

"This is the outcome of that Canadian government's interference with Newfoundland's efforts to obtain reciprocity with the United States, and the subsequent action of Newfoundland in refusing to Canadians the privilege of obtaining herring and other bait fish in waters of that colony, but a 'backdown' may be looked for shortly.

"The reasons which induced the Dominion government to suspend the duties upon Newfoundland's fish in 1885 exists still. Newfoundland will at once, no doubt, reply by levying discriminating duties upon Canadian food products, and thus our export trade to that colony will be destroyed and the whole business placed in the hands of United States traders. Canada exported last year to Newfoundland goods to the value of about $1,260,000. A considerable trade has also been carried on at Halifax and other Nova Scotia ports in repacking the Newfoundland fish for shipment to the West Indies and southern Europe. That business will now be transferred either to Newfoundland or New England ports, and in either case the Dominion will suffer.

"How the mother country must be delighted to find two of her children declaring war against each other for the edification and profit of the rebellious republican child to the south of us!"

Retaliation.

Halifax, N. S., Dec. 11.—The official announcement that Canada will impose duties on all fish imports from Newfoundland creates great interest here. Greatly to the disgust of Nova Scotia fishermen, Newfoundland has obtained the largest proportion of its food supplies from Canada. The declaration of retaliation by Canada will throw the whole of that trade into American channels.

Hon. A. B. Marine, leader of the opposition in the Newfoundland legislature, in an interview with your correspondent said: "The refusal of Newfoundland to recede from its untenable position is a distinct triumph of the anti-British and pro-American faction of the government, led by Hon. Messrs. Harvey and Bond, to which Premier Whiteway has weakly yielded. The entire south and west coast of the island is dependent upon Canada for a market.

Some years ago, as a piece of bluff, the Newfoundland legislature enacted that when Canada imposed duties on the fish of that colony the duties on food products imported from the Dominion should be 100 per cent higher than on similar imports from the United States. This law now goes into effect, and will be prohibitory as far as Canadian food stuffs are concerned. The result of this war of tariffs will be that while the Newfoundland fisherman loses a valuable market, the price of his necessaries of life will be largely increased."

PICKED UP AT SEA.

The Camelia Rescued the Crew of the Tamas.

A Waterlogged Craft Left to Her Fate—Fruitless Efforts to Save the British Bark Energy.

New York, Dec. 11.—The American schooner Tamas left Jacksonville, Fla., on October 7 with a cargo of lumber, bound for this port. She was in command of Capt. Moule and carried a crew of seven men. A week after leaving Jacksonville she was sighted off Cape Hatteras, waterlogged and abandoned.

The fate of the crew was a mystery for some time. It was learned that they had been lost.

Two weeks ago a cable was received from Capt. Moule announcing his arrival at Amsterdam. He and his crew were rescued by the German ship Camelia. They arrived here to-day on the steamship Amsterdam.

"We were caught by a gale," said Capt. Moule, "two days after we left Jacksonville. It was terrific, and big seas constantly swept our deck and caused our vessel to spring a leak. My men worked bravely at the pumps, but early in the morning of October 10 the Tamas was waterlogged and her decks were nearly awash.

"Fortunately for us the storm had moderated and enabled us to stand by our ship.

"That day the bark Camelia bore down to our rescue. We were carried all the way across the Atlantic, and the officers and crew treated us with great consideration."

Another shipwrecked mariner arrived on the Amsterdam. He was Capt. Purdy, of the abandoned British bark Energy, wrecked off Cape Hatteras in the same storm that waterlogged the Tamas.

The Energy left Santa Cruz, Cuba, on September 23 last and caught the hurricane on October 6. It lasted for three days, and when it subsided the vessel was wrecked and dismantled.

On the evening of October 9 the German ship California took off Capt. Purdy and his crew of six men. Two days after the Energy was abandoned the American bark Albermarle, in command of Capt. Forbes, sighted the derelict.

Capt. Forbes is a shrewd Yankee skipper, and saw that the vessel was in very good condition. He saw visions of salvage, and put a prize crew aboard, telling them to try and make some American port.

The day following another hurricane struck the Energy, nearly battering her to pieces, and left her helpless.

The plucky Americans were in a perilous position. The bark was sinking rapidly, and when the schooner Conant came along they were glad to abandon the vessel.

THE COTTON CROP.

Statement of the Department of Agriculture.

A Feeling of Discouragement Pervades the Report—A Tendency Shown to Reduce Areas.

Washington, Dec. 11.—The cotton returns of December to the department of agriculture relate to average prices on plantations. The complaint of unremunerative values is general, and the declaration frequent that the crop does not return cost of production. A feeling of discouragement pervades the report, and a disposition to reduce area is expressed.

The plantation price, which is the actual rate for cotton sold at the gin, averages 7.3 cents per pound. For five years preceding the range was from 8.1 to 8.6 and averaged nearly 8.4 cents. This decline is given in the records of transportation, which averaged in October a value of 8.9 cents, against 10.11 cents for October of last year, a drop of 12 per cent. The state averages are as follows: Virginia, 7c; North Carolina, 7.4c; South Carolina, 7.4c; Georgia, 7.4c; Florida, 7.3c; Alabama, 7.3c; Mississippi, 7.3c; Louisiana, 7.3c; Texas, 7c; Arkansas, 7.3c; Tennessee, 7.3.

An almost unexampled season for harvesting is reported, with picking, ginning and marketing far advanced. While the fibre is at many points short, is is clean and of good color.

The returns show that the condition of growing wheat is 85.3.

The returns showing condition of the coming crops of winter grains are not generally favorable. On the Atlantic coast some injury is reported on early sown areas from the Hessian fly. The season was not favorable for seeding in the south on account of continued dry weather and germination was slow from the same cause. The rains in the late autumn have improved the prospect. In the western states seeding was late, the seed bed hard and cloddy, germination slow and growth unfavorable until November, when material improvement was seen in most fields. In some districts the Hessian fly made its appearance, causing some damage.

The average condition of the crop is 85.3. The figures for the principal states on the great wheat belt being—Ohio 80, Michigan 92, Indiana 81, Illinois 80, Iowa 92, Missouri 73, Kansas 75, Nebraska 93, California 97. The average for New York 97, Pennsylvania 92, Maryland 87, Virginia 86, Georgia 96, Texas 70.

The condition of rye is a little higher than that of wheat, making an average of 88.8.

The returns duly consolidated make the average farm value of the current crops of the year: Corn 42.2 cents per bushel, wheat 85.3, rye 77.4, barley 54.0, oats 32.2, buckwheat 57.0, potatoes 37.1, tobacco, cigar leaf, 14.1 per pound; manufacturing and export leaf 7.5 cents, hay $8.39 per ton. Condition of growing wheat is reported at 85.3.

The price of corn is 2.9 cents per bushel more than the average of 10 years from 1890 and only four-tenths of a cent less than the average for the decade from 1870. In the states of largest production prices are as follows: Ohio 41 cents, Indiana 38, Illinois 37, Iowa 30, Missouri 38, Kansas 34, Nebraska 26. The latter state, where corn is cheapest, has reported a higher value only four times in 15 years. The average value of the whole crop since 1883 has been higher only in 1887 and 1890, when the yield was only 20 bushels per acre.

The value of the wheat crop is 2.5 cents per bushel higher than the average of 10 years from 1880, and has been exceeded only once (in 1888) since 1883. In the states of the Atlantic coast and those of the gulf of Mexico, except Texas, the value is from $1 to $1.15, in the Ohio valley from 85 to 96 cents, beyond the Mississippi from 70 cents in North Dakota to 81 cents in Iowa.

Only once since 1883 has the price of oats been as high as at present, 32.2 cents, which is 1.3 cents higher than the average of 10 years from 1880.

The prices of all cereals have been remarkably maintained in view of the abundance of production.

GAS WELLS PURCHASED.

Upper Sandusky, O., Dec. 11.—The Buckeye Fuel and Light company has purchased the two wells of the Ohio Oil company at Crawford, a few miles north of here, paying therefor, it is thought, in the neighborhood of $4,600, which includes an 80-acre lease in good gas territory. The product of these wells will be turned into the mains supplying this town, when, it is supposed, there will be enough to keep the consumer warm. The idea of fuel gas made from oil for about 15 cents per thousand feet has been declared off for a while by the council here.

AWARDED DAMAGES.

Zanesville, O., Dec. 11.—In the case of the administratrix of Wm. Hollingsworth, who was run over by the cars on the Cincinnati & Muskingum Valley railway at the Fifth street crossing one year ago, the jury awarded a verdict of $9,000 to the plaintiff.

A Shakespeare folio and a first Kilmarnock edition of Burns have been "lost" by Sothern, the London bookseller. Of course this means that the books have been stolen by some enterprising thief. Post cards announcing the "loss" and soliciting information leading to the recovery of the property have been circulated through Europe and this continent.

AUDITOR POE'S REPORT.

It is Being Greatly Delayed by the Tardiness of County Auditors.

Columbus, O., Dec. 11.—The annual report of State Auditor Poe is being seriously delayed by the failure of various county auditors to make their reports to him. More than twenty such reports are still lacking, although the law requires that they be filed in October.

Hamilton county is the most delinquent. While assurances have been received that the others will be filed within a few days, the auditor of Hamilton county frankly states that owing to the delay of the new board of review he can not fix any time for filing his report. It is probable that the enactment of a law imposing a fine for such negligence will be recommended by the state auditor to the legislature.

MAJESTY'S SLAYER.

Columbus, O., Dec. 11.—The case of Dave Seville, the prize-fighter, who killed his man in a prize-fight at Nelsonville last April, and received one year for engaging in a prize-fight, will be taken out of its order and set for early hearing. Seville is out on bail, pending the hearing of his case.

OLD DEBTS.

The City Making Arrangements to Pay Them.

Wabash Street Opening—Numerous Other Matters Before the Various Council Committees.

Several council committees held meetings last evening and started some new legislation, though but little time was spent in discussion.

The ways and means committee met in Auditor Walker's office and discussed the best means of paying a large number of old certificates of indebtedness, long past due. Of these old certificates, there are about $11,000 issued for the opening of Junction avenue in 1875, and some 33 certificates for the Wabash street improvement for amounts from $100 to $1,000, besides numerous others variously distributed.

Mr. Walker stated that he did not think it advisable to issue new certificates to take up these old ones, as that would cripple the city finances next year. He suggested that the legislature be requested to grant the city permission to issue 5 per cent. bonds, payable in 10 years, and when these are sold pay the old certificates in cash. The committee approved this plan and directed the auditor to prepare the proper legislation.

Mr. Huberich brought up the matter of the Wabash street condemnation over the tracks of the Clover Leaf railway. The common pleas court has given the railroad company a judgment against the city for $1,000, but they are not satisfied with that and intend appealing it to higher courts. Mr. Huberich said that the city solicitor had suggested that the city pay over this $1,000 into the hands of the probate court, give bonds for the costs in the case, and then open and improve the street. He was of the opinion that if the city thus obtained possession of the street, it would help the case in the higher court. The committee decided that this should be done.

The committee also decided to rent part of the auditor's office to Mrs. Tom Temple, in which she will conduct a floral establishment.

* * *

The street committee approved an ordinance to pave the alley between St. Clair and Superior street, from Jefferson to Madison; also an ordinance to establish the grade of Lee street, and a resolution to grade Walnut street from Yates street to Frederick.

An ordinance to grade the sidewalk beds on Collingwood avenue from Forrer street to Nebraska avenue, was laid over for two weeks.

* * *

The committe on rules and by-laws approved an ordinance prohibiting any runner or agent for hotel, hack line or street railroad, from soliciting patronage on any street, sidewalk, crosswalk, alley, bridge or public ground in the city.

* * *

The sidewalk committee approved resolutions for a number of new walks.

* * *

The health committee briefly discussed the garbage question and adopted specifications for this work, also directing the city clerk to advertise for bids for the collection and disposal of garbage.

* * *

The committtee on harbor and commerce met, but its only business was a schedule of bills, which was approved.

Weakness of sight is frequently the result of general debility. When the blood is impoverished every organ and sense suffers. As an effective, powerful, and economical tonic-alterative, Ayer's Sarsaparilla may be relied on every time.

A QUESTION OF COURAGE?

If any one should make the unsupported assertion that, in this state of peace and plenty, of happy homes and all that goes to make life pleasant, 426 people in one year should attempt to take their own life it could hardly be credited. The statistics given, however, prove such to have been the fact, and doubtless the cases not made public would bring the list up to five hundred. Of this number there were nearly three times as many men as women, and yet it is admitted that the struggle of life is harder for the latter than for the former. Do these figures prove that women have more courage than men and dare to continue the fight, or that they have not the courage to end it? Or do they show that women are possessed of a higher conscience that would forbid such an act; or that they will not forsake their children or those depending upon them in order to procure a release for themselves? The probable explanation is found in the intemperate habits of men, which blunt all the finer susceptibilities, make them impervious to sentiments of love, honor or duty, destroy the capacity for work, develop the coarser instincts and lead the way to suicide. But one is forcibly reminded, in reading this sad chapter, of the many reformatory and charitable organizations, of the number of people banded together for the purpose of reducing crime and helping the unfortunate, who would gladly have extended aid and encouragement to these five hundred desperate fellow-creatures, had they but known of their distress. Is it too much to hope that the time may come when each half of the world shall know how the other half lives?—Indianapolis News.

LaGrippe Here Again

The Dread Disease Threatens Another Epidemic.

An Interesting Talk With An Eminent Specialist.

How the Disease May Be Kept Within Bounds, If Not Entirely Avoided, Plainly Told By Dr. W. H. Copeland.

La Grippe has once more fastened its clutches on the country. From every city, village and hamlet comes the news of its dread re-appearance and a cry for deliverance. Toledo is not escaping. The disease is here and gaining ground rapidly. Each day adds to its list of victims, and, if it continues to increase in the same ratio as that of the past ten days it will soon be epidemic again.

What conditions cause it or what surroundings spread it no one seems to be able to explain; everyone theorizes, and the grip goes steadily on exempting from its suffering, and frequent death, neither the rich man in his palace nor the poor man in his cabin. La Grippe is your true universalist. It goeth where it listeth "and no man knoweth whence it cometh or whither it goeth."

Perhaps the most competent medical man in the city to speak on the subject is Dr. W. H. Copeland, of the Copeland Institute, 706 Madison street. The Doctor's practice has been largely in the head, throat and lung diseases and he has had much experience and practice with La Grippe since its first emigration from Russia to this country. The Doctor said in reply to a reporter:

"There is no question but that genuine La Grippe is with us again. We have hundreds of cases in our practice, and the disease is spreading daily.

"'What shall be done to avoid it?' There appears to be no way to avoid it, but such precautions may be taken as to greatly mitigate its severity. Let it find the system in good condition, well-nourished, well-protected, free from cold and catarrhal trouble and prepared for resistance.

"Many a death has been caused by this disease finding the victim in an enfeebled state, with insipient throat or lung trouble, ready, waiting for attack. Then, upon the very first sign of warning, the patient should go to a physician competent to treat it, and in nine cases out of ten there will be no more trouble than with a severe cold, properly handled.

"It is of the utmost importance that the disease be treated in time. The patient nearly always delays, under the impression that it is only 'a bad cold', and only discovers his mistake when his 'bad cold' fails to yield to the customary remedies, and by that time the grip has secured a firm foothold; gives him a long and serious fight and withdraws, finally, leaving permanent traces of its ravages in the victim's enfeebled condition. 'In time of peace prepare for war,' is a safe motto with which to fight La Grippe, and people should follow this advice."

City Auditor's Office.

Toledo, O., Nov. 20, 1891.

The committee on ways and means of the common council of the city of Toledo, Ohio, and the undersigned invite sealed proposals at this office to at 7 o'clock p. m. for the purchase of Street Improvement Bonds, to the amount of Thirteen Thousand Six Hundred and Ninety 38-100 ($13,690 38-100) Dollars, bearing date Dec. 7, 1891, and payable as follows: One Thousand and Ninety 38-100 ($1,090 38-100) Dollars on the 7th day of June, 1892, and Fourteen Hundred Dollars at the expiration of every six months thereafter, to and including Dec. 7, 1896. At the office of the City Treasurer, with interest at the rate of five (5) per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually at the same place as evidenced by coupons to be attached to said bonds.

Said improvement bonds are issued pursuant to section 2704 to 2707 of the revised statutes of the state of Ohio, and also under an ordinance of the common council of the city of Toledo, Ohio, "To provide for the issue of improvement bonds to pay the cost and expense of the improvement of Irving street, from Franklin avenue to Collingwood avenue."—Passed Nov. 2nd, 1891.

The denomination of these bonds will be first payment two bonds of $545.19 each, and thereafter two of $500 and one of $400 each payment.

The said bonds will be sold at not less than par and accrued interest, to the highest bidder.

Bidders will be required to state the gross amount they will pay for the bonds besides the accrued interest to date of delivery at Toledo, Ohio. They will also be required to deposit with each bid an amount of money or a certified check on some responsible bank equal to at least five (5) per centum of the par value of the bonds, so bid for, as a guarantee of good faith, and that the bid so made (if successful) will be fulfilled in accordance with the terms thereof, and the requirements of the law and ordinances. When the bids have been examined, and the award made according to law, all monies or checks deposited as guarantees shall be returned to the depositor, or held by the city auditor subject to his call, except that of the successful bidder which shall be held and considered, and accepted as part payment of the bonds so awarded or sold, but should there be any repudiation of the contract or agreement, or refusal to accept and pay for the bonds so sold, then and in that case the deposit shall be forfeited to the city of Toledo, and shall become the property of said city, in compensation for loss and expenses attending the sale of said bonds and as liquidated damages for repudiation of bid. And no bid will be received if not accompanied by money or check aforesaid.

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids.

Proposals should be addressed to the "Auditor of the city of Toledo, Ohio," and be indorsed "Proposals for improvement bonds."

W. T. WALKER, City Auditor.

Legal Notice.

David A. Fuller and Susan M. Fuller, his wife, whose place of residence is unknown, will take notice that on the 4th day of November, 1891, Geo. Schuler filed in the common pleas court of Lucas county, Ohio, his petition in which in substance he avers that the said defendant, David A. Fuller, is indebted to said plaintiff, Geo. Schuler, in the sum of $145.00, with interest on $275 from April 14, 1876, at eight per cent. to Feb. 29, 1884, and from that date interest on $145.00 at eight per cent. And further that to secure payment of said indebtedness on that date said defendants made, executed and delivered to said plaintiff a certain mortgage deed conveying to said plaintiff lots 4 and 6 in block 7 of the plat of North Toledo, Lucas county, Ohio. That the prayer of said petition is for judgment against said defendant, David Fuller, for the amount due to said plaintiff, and in default of payment thereof within a short time to be fixed by the court, that said premises may be sold to pay said debt, with interest and costs and taxes thereon according to their priority of lien.

Defendant is required to answer said petition on or before the 9th day of January, 1892, or a judgment and decree may be taken as prayed for against him.

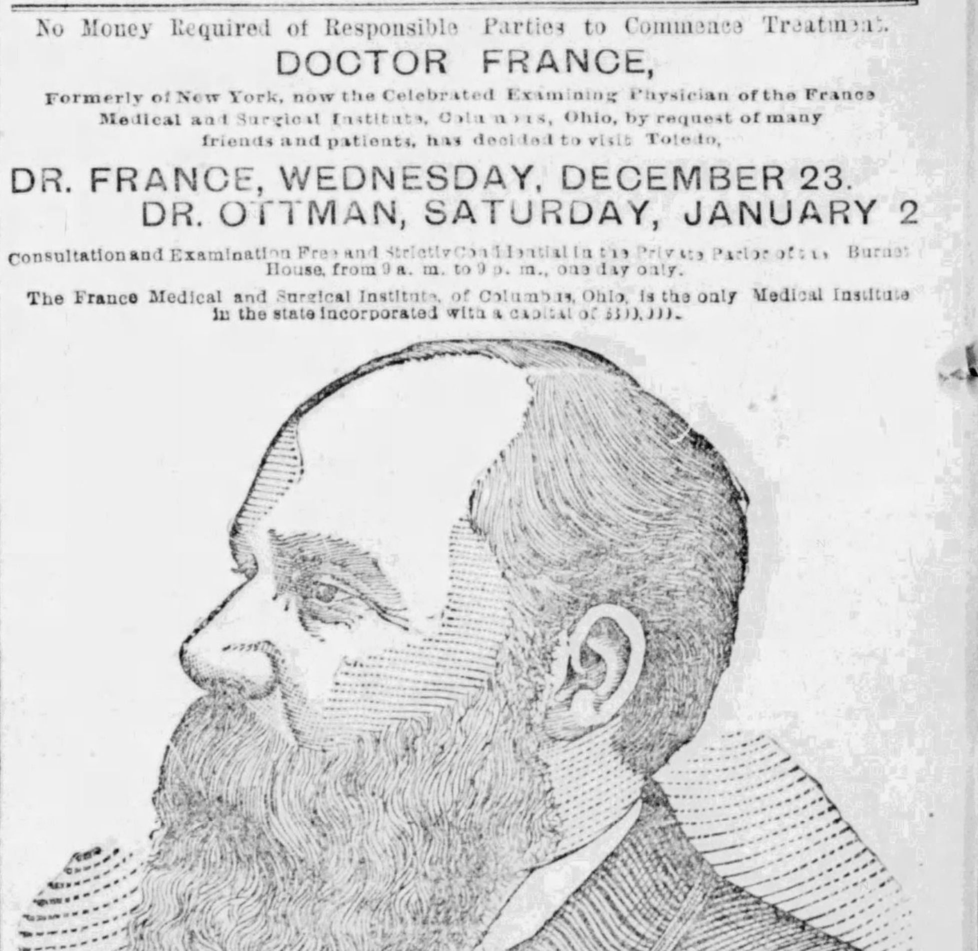
DR. FRANCE, WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 23.
DR. OTTMAN, SATURDAY, JANUARY 2

Consultation and Examination Free and Strictly Confidential in the Private Parlor of the Burnet House, from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m., one day only.

The France Medical and Surgical Institute, of Columbus, Ohio, is the only Medical Institute in the state incorporated with a capital of $300,000.



FRANCE MEDICAL AND SURGICAL INSTITUTE,

38 & 40 W. Gay St., one block N. of State House, Columbus, O. Incorporated, 1886. Capital, $300,000.

DRS. FRANCE AND OTTMAN, of New York, the well known and successful Specialists in Chronic Diseases and Diseases of the Eye and Ear, on account of their large practice in Ohio, have established the FRANCE MEDICAL INSTITUTE, where all forms of Chronic, Nervous and Private Diseases will be successfully treated on the most Scientific principles. They are ably assisted by a full corps of eminent Physicians and Surgeons, each one being a well known specialist in his profession.

CANCER positively cured without pain or use of the knife, by a new method.

IMPORTANT TO LADIES.—DR. FRANCE, after years of experience, has discovered the greatest cure known for all diseases peculiar to the sex. Female diseases positively cured by the new remedy, OLIVE BLOSSOM. The cure is effected by home treatment. Entirely harmless and easily applied. Consultation Free and Strictly Confidential. Correspondence promptly answered.

YOUNG MEN.—Who have become victims of solitary vice, that dreadful and destructive habit, which annually sweeps to an untimely grave thousands of young men of exalted talent and brilliant intellect, may call with confidence.

DRS. FRANCE AND OTTMAN, after years of experience, have discovered the greatest cure known for weakness in the back and limbs, involuntary discharges, impotency, general debility, nervousness, languor, confusion of ideas, palpitation of the heart, timidity, trembling, dimness of sight, or giddiness, diseases of the head, throat, nose, or skin, affections of the liver, lungs, stomach, or bowels—those terrible disorders arising from the solitary vice of youth—and secret practices, blighting their most radiant hopes or anticipations, rendering marriage impossible. Take one candid thought before it is too late. A week or month may place your case beyond the reach of hope. Our method of treatment will speedily and permanently cure the most obstinate case, and absolutely restore perfect manhood.

TO MIDDLE-AGED MEN.—There are many from the age of 30 to 60 who are troubled with frequent evacuations of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight burning or smarting sensation, weakening the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examination of the urinary deposits, a ropy sediment will be found, or the color will be a thin or milkish hue. There are many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause, which is a second stage of seminal weakness. We will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases, and a healthy restoration of the genito-urinary organs.

DISEASES OF WOMEN.—We have a special department, thoroughly organized, and devoted exclusively to the treatment of diseases of women. Every case consulting our specialists, whether by letter or in person, is given the most careful and considerate attention. Important cases, and we get few which have not baffled the skill of all the home physicians) have the benefit of a full council of skilled specialists. In treatment of diseases peculiar to females, our success has been marked, over two-thirds of our patients being ladies, old, young, married, single, rich and poor. Our method is entirely free from objectionable features of the general practitioner, namely, "Local treatment." We seldom find it necessary. We prepare remedies, constitutional and local, as the case demands, and instruct ladies how to treat themselves.

MARRIAGE.—Married persons, or young men contemplating marriage, aware of physical weakness, loss of procreative powers, impotency, or any other disqualification, speedily restored.

PRIVATE DISEASES.—Blood Poison, Venereal Taint, Gleet, Stricture, Seminal Emissions, Loss of Sexual Power, Weakness of Sexual Organs, Want of Desire in Male or Female, whether from imprudent habits of youth or sexual habits of mature years, or any cause that debilitates the sexual functions, speedily and permanently cured. Consultation free and strictly confidential. Absolute cures guaranteed. Medicines sent free from observation to all parts of the United States.

EPILEPSY, OR FITS—Positively cured by a new and never-failing method. Testimonials furnished.

FREE EXAMINATION OF THE URINE.—Each person applying for medical treatment should send or bring from 2 to 4 ounces of urine (that passed first in the morning preferred), which will receive a careful chemical and microscopical examination, and if requested a written analysis will be given.

Persons ruined in health by unlearned pretenders, who keep trifling with them month after month, giving poisonous and injurious compounds, should apply immediately. Delays are dangerous.

WONDERFUL CURES Perfected in old cases which have been neglected or unskillfully treated. No experiments or failures. Parties treated by mail or express, but where possible, personal consultation is preferred. Curable cases guaranteed. No risks incurred.

Cases and correspondence confidential. Treatment sent C. O. D. to any part of U. S. List of 130 questions free. Address, with postage, DR. FRANCE, Nos. 38 and 40 W. Gay St., Columbus, O.

A COLUMN OF SMILES.

Young Toddleby was a true-hearted and promising youth. He had graduated with honor at Yale, and was studying law with Mr. Lofter. It so happened that Toddleby became acquainted with a beautiful young lady, daughter of old Digby. He loved the fair maiden, and when he had reason to believe his love was returned he asked Mr. Lofter to recommend him to the father, Lofter being on terms of close intimacy with the family. The lawyer agreed and performed his mission; but old Digby, who loved money, asked what property the young man had. Lofter said he did not know, but he would inquire. The next time he saw his young student he asked him if he had any property at all.

"Only health, strength, and a determination to work," replied the youth.

"Well," said thelawyer, who sincerely believed the youth was in every way worthy, "let us see. What will you take for your right leg? I will give you $200,000 for it."

Of course Toddleby refused.

The next time the lawyer saw the young lady's father he said:

"I have inquired about this young man's circumstances. He has no money in bank; but he owns a piece of property for which, to my certain knowledge, he has been offered and has refused $20,-000."

This led old Digby to consent to the marriage, which shortly afterward took place, says the New York Ledger. In the end he had reason to be proud of his son-in-law, though he was once heard to remark touching that rare piece of property upon the strength of which he had consented to the match:

"If it could not take wings it was liable at any time to walk off."

According to Isaiah.

The St. Louis Republic tells this story: Governor Boies of Iowa is one of the most tolerant and benevolent men in the world. It is rarely that he indulges in repartee, but on one occasion during the recent campaign he used that weapon effectually enough to put a stopper upon the husband of J. Ellen Foster. Ellen's husband is a federal office-holder who holds his office by right of his wife's services for the party of great moral ideas. On his way home to vote he fell in with a large party accompanying the governor on his campaign tour. He at once began an attack upon the governor for his attitude on the prohibition question, and quoted scripture by the yard in doing so. The fellow finally became a bore to everybody in the coach. Turning to him quietly Governor Boies said:

"Your being an office-holder under this administration reminds me also of Scripture, Mr. Foster. You will find it in Isaiah—'The ox knoweth the owner and the ass his master's crib.'"

J. Ellen's husband went forward to smoke.

Satisfaction Guaranteed.

"I'm nearly always disappointed in the Christmas gifts my husband buys me," confessed Mrs. Dimmick to Mrs. Kickshaw.

"Is that so?"

"Yes. He means well, but he doesn't seem to get me the things I want. I try to appear pleased, of course, but I'd rather have things I care for. I give him hints, but he never seems to catch them."

"Now I never have any trouble like that with Mr. Kickshaw."

"How do you manage it?"

"Easily enough. I buy him for his Christmas present just what I want to have myself, and he gets for me just what he thinks he would like to have, and then we exchange the articles with each other."—From the Editor's Drawer, in Harper's Magazine.

His Grace.

Dodgeworth (after a violent waltz)—How do you like my dancing?

Bella Donough—It reminds me of the patron saint of the art.

Dodgeworth—Who's that—Terpsichore?

Bella Donough—No; St. Vitus.—Judge.

The One Drawback.

Inventor—Oh, the fatality of things! Here I have an invulnerable, non-atmospheric, spectacular, refractive, non-reverberating, non-oscillatory watch, perfect in detail and mechanism, and yet I am almost starving. Friend—Why don't you sell the patent? Inventor—The fools won't buy it, just because it won't keep time.—Jewellers' Circular.

Making the Item Right.

"Do I look like a dead man?"

This question was shot at the editor of the Bad Lands Bazoo by a man of ferocious aspect, who entered the sanctum in a great hurry.

"My friend, I have no time to answer conundrums," replied the editor mildly.

"I want to know if I look like a dead man?" persisted the visitor in a louder tone. "It ain't no conundrum, either."

"I don't know that I'm bound to answer the questions of every excited individual who happens to come in. If you'll tell me the object of your call, I'll give the subject some consideration."

"Well, sir, your paper announced me dead, and I want to know whether I look like a dead man."

"Why didn't you say so? No, you don't look like a dead man."

"Then your paper lied, didn't it?"

"The paper seems to have been misinformed, if you are the man it referred to. I allow no man to say it lied."

"Well, I'm the man it referred to, I reckon. There ain't but one Alkali Ike in these diggin's, I'm the terror of the Bad Lands. I'm a varmint from the Wicked Desert, and when I'm mad I can lick the entire press of the United States. You hear me?"

"I've never been accused of deafness."

"I could chew you up at one mouthful. See?"

"I'm not blind."

"If you don't make that paragraph right I'll jab yer into yer own press and print an impression of yer paper on yer carcass. Twig?"

The editor twigged.

"Will yer make that item right?"

"I will," replied the editor, rising slowly from his chair, with a seven-shooter in one hand and a bowie knife in the other. "Yes, I'll make the paragraph true. You'll look like a dead man in exactly five seconds. What's your choice, lead or steel?"

But Alkali Ike, the varmint from the Wicked Desert, did not remain long enough to choose, and the item hasn't been corrected yet.—Brooklyn Life.

CRANK AFTER HARRISON.

He is Arrested and Adjudged Insane.

No More Guiteau Business to be Allowed.

He Has a Grievance Which He Wanted Righted and They Did Not Give Him Time to Make Any Threats.

Washington, December 11.—A man giving his name as Thomas Henry Mercer Hogg was arrested a few days ago at the white house while endeavoring to gain an audience with the president, and he has been adjudged insane by a board of physicians.

Failing to gain admission to the executive mansion, Hogg wrote a letter to Mr. Harrison which reads as follows:

Mr. Benj. Harrison, President of the U. S.:

Der Sir—What I, Thomas H. M. Hogg, wishes to spake to you about is, that from the time I signed the declaration of my intention to become a citizen of the United States of America, I have not had the protection of a citizen in Fordham, the state of New York, and in the city of New York, and in Bayonne, Jersey state, and Homestead, the state of Pennsylvania. The time I came here was in Oct., 1889. Their is a number of persons after me the same as in England and Ireland ever since 1882, and I cannot get a stop to the same and injoy the privileges of a citizen of the U. S.

(Signed)
THOMAS HENRY MERCER HOGG,
Bricklayer, 109 D Street.

He inclosed a letter addressed to the lord lieutenant of Ireland, which he requested to be forwarded to that official.

Hogg is about 28 years old and had $121 in currency in his pockets when taken into custody. He could not be induced to tell where he lived, but it is supposed from papers which he had about him that he came from Fordham, N. Y.

A RACING YACHT.

Commodore Bills Inaugurates an Excellent Plan

For Securing to Toledo a Yacht That Will Uphold Toledo's Yachting Reputation.

Subjoined is a plan proposed by Commodore Geo. W. Bills, of the Toledo Yacht club, for the securing of a racing yacht that will give Toledo one of the swiftest yachts on fresh waters. Mr. Bills has already received about 10 subscriptions of $100 each. Subscriptions need not be paid until the full amount has been subscribed.

Toledo, O., Dec. 2, 1891.

To the Members of the Ohio Yacht Club:

Gentlemen—Believing a revival of the yachting interests and the placing of Toledo on an equal with her sister cities, Detriot and Cleveland, in this sport, to be the desire of every member of our club, permit me to call your attention to the necessity of either buying or building a new yacht, one in which we will have confidence to challenge in a race any yacht of her class on fresh waters, one that will be a representative yacht of the O. Y. C., and to be considered the flag-ship of the squadron in all regattas and meets.

This, it seems to me, can best be accomplished by the formation, within our club, of a racing association, properly organized, officered, &c.

I submit herewith a plan for such an organization, and solicit subscriptions hereto. The proper rules and ergulations of the association will, of course, be adopted from time to time after the organization is completed.

Very respectfully submitted.
GEO. W. BILLS,
Commodore, O. Y. C.

Subscription.

We, the undersigned members of the O. Y. C., hereby subscribe and agree to pay the sums set opposite our names for the purposes and upon the conditions herein-after set forth.

First—It is agreed that no obligations shall exist until the sum of $4,000 has been subscribed, at which time a meeting shall be called of all subscribers, an association formed, officers elected, and rules and regulations adopted, and the subscriptions hereto shall be due and payable whenever called by a duly authorized officer.

Second—It is understood and agreed that the object of these subscriptions is for the purpose of forming a racing association, within the organization known as the Ohio Yacht Club, and to build or purchase one or more racing yachts which shall be done under the direction of a committee duly appointed by the subscribers hereto, and for the further purpose of the general advancement of yachting interests within the Ohio Yacht Club.

Third—It is understood and agreed that on the completion of this organization, certificates shall be issued to the members therefo, representing the amount of each respective subscription, which certificate shall represent the interest owned by the holder threof in the racing yachts aforesaid, and in such other property as may be required by the association.

THE WORM WILL TURN.

A Railroad Operator Talks of Their Prospects.

Yardmaster Dimmick Injured—The Clover Leaf's Chair Cars—Another Line Joins the Erie.

The action taken by the Southern Pacific road in requiring operators to pledge themselves not to join the Order of Railroad Telegraphers has created somewhat of a stir among the members of this organization.

Said a Toledo member of the order to a Bee this morning: "Railroad telegraph operators have always been tramped over rough shod by railroad officials. They are looked upon as a weak, disorganized class of employes, and not entitled to as much consideration as the office boys get. We are imposed upon whenever an occasion permits, and every effort is put forth, no matter how unscrupulous, to keep the operator down—further down the better. We have no one to blame but ourselves. The other employes have organized and stood up for their rights. They put on a bold front, and the result is their demands are respected. Our order is young, and the goadings of railway officials are making us stronger every day. If the boys on the Southern Pacific will only stand by the lead made by these few and fight the battle to its bitter end, they can't help but win. Now is the time to strike for liberty, for there never was a period when competent operators were so scarce. The worm is about to turn, and when it does, listen to hear something drop."

Chair Cars on Exhibition.

The Toledo, St. Louis & Kansas City road this morning invited a Bee to inspect two elegant new reclining chair cars, which are on exhibition at the union depot. Traveling Passenger Agent Boyd is in charge, and he entertains all visitors in a right royal manner.

These cars are veritable palaces on wheels and the important feature of their introduction is that they are free as an ordinary coach. They were built at the St. Louis shops, and will be pressed into service on day trains between Toledo and St. Louis. The cars are very handsome, finished in mahogany and upholstered with wine-colored and terra cotta plush. There are finely appointed toilet-rooms, large smoking-rooms and all the latest improvements. Three other cars of like pattern are now being built, and the Clover Leaf expects to add materially to the number of its passengers between this city and St. Louis.

A cordial invitation is extended to the public to call and inspect the beautiful structures, which will be at the depot all day to-morrow for this purpose.

Was it a Freeze-out?

It was given out not long ago that W. C. Rinearson, general passenger agent of the Erie, had resigned to accept a position as traffic manager of the East Tennessee, Virginia & Georgia road. Now comes the report that S. M. Teldon, of the E., T., V. & G., denies that Mr. Rinearson has been appointed to any position on that road, and indications point to a clear case of freeze-out. This phase of the situation is corroborated in the fact that Mr. D. I. Roberts resigned his position in the middle of a month to succeed to the general passenger agency of the Erie.

Rockwell's Experience.

When General Superintendent Rockwell assumed his new duties with the Chicago & Eastern Illinois he must have been confronted with a terrible state of affairs with regard to the competency of the employer of that line. He evidently intends to revolutionize the financial condition of the C. & E. I. and the success or failure of this resolution, it seems, is to rest on his ability to procure C., H. & T. timber to man his departments. Following the numerous resignations of late comes the report that Thomas Crozier, foreman of the boiler shop; S. A. Weaver, day foreman of the round house, and H. B. Fooristall, foreman of the paint shop of the C., H. V. & T. railroad, will soon go to the C. & E. I. road.

Yardmaster Dimmick Injured.

General Yardmaster Dimmick, of the Lake Shore at this point, narrowly escaped death yesterday while attending to his duties in the yard. He attempted to cross the track just ahead of an approaching yard engine. He failed to get clear across, however, and the pilot beam struck him in the side. Fortunately he was thrown away from the engine and escaped with the fracture of two ribs.

Still They Come.

The Delaware and Hudson river system has notified the Chicago & Alton people that, owing to the action of the Erie, it will at once resume the sale of tickets and the issuance of rough baggage checks via the Alton road.

DISCHARGED THE WIFE.

Dublin, Dec. 11.—The magesterial examination into the case of Mrs. Cotton, who was jointly implicated with her husband, the Rev. Samuel G. Cotton, in causing the death of a boy named Brown, an inmate of the Curragh orphanage in Kildare, of which they had charge, was concluded to-day and resulted in the judge discharging Mrs. Cotton from custody. He held that she only complied with the orders of her husband.

FOUND GUILTY.

Wilmington, Del., Dec. 11.—The jury in the case of Wm. J. Gibbons, one of the fire bugs who was tried for the burning of one of the Dupont buildings, brought in a verdict of guilty this noon.

THE GOULDS IN THE SWIM.

They Are to Enter Society With a Whirl.

The Old Gentleman Thinks He Has Money Enough to Commence Entertaining in Style.

New York, Dec. 11.—One of the most important events in the fashionable world this winter will be the magnificent reception that is to be given at the residence of Jay Gould on the afternoon and evening of December 26 to signalize the entrance of Miss Helen Gould into society. Jay Gould is displaying an intense personal interest in making the occasion a success.

This will be the first plunge into the social stream made by the Goulds. During the life of Mrs. Gould, who was busily employed in bringing up a family of six children, no attempt was made to get into the swim. Jay Gould did not have any time to spend in that way, and the girls were too young to think of it.

Miss Helen Gould has become a charming lady of 21, however, and it is her father's desire that she should mingle in the gay world of fashion. Miss Gould will be assisted at the reception, it is said, by Mrs. George J. Gould, wife of Jay Gould's eldest son, and Miss Hebert, a school-girl friend of the debutante.

Helen Gould is a tall, slender girl of quiet and almost reserved manners. She has soft and silky brown hair, dark eyes and a complexion that is clearer than that of most of the members of her family. She dresses quietly and has a reputation for charitableness. She has always displayed a marked interest in church and Sunday school work.

It is believed that Jay Gould, who has never been seen at a fashionable reception, will begin to mingle in society as soon as his eldest daughter has established a lengthy visiting list. Mr. Gould calls his daughter Nellie instead of Helen. She is a genuine home-body.

KEEP AWAY FROM CHICAGO.

Sound Advice to the Laboring Man.

The Market is Overstocked With Workmen and Thousands of Idle Men Are There.

Chicago, Dec. 11.—The circular distributed broadcast some time since by the Trade and Labor assembly, urging unemployed workingmen to stay away from Chicago, seems, up to the present, to have failed in its intended effect.

Every new day seems to bring recruits to the already large army of men out of work of both the far east and the far west, as well as the south being represented among the arrivals.

The progress of construction on the world's fair grounds, as well as the tremendous amount of building operations now going on, has furnished employment to hundreds if not thousands of the early arrivals, but, nevertheless, the local labor market is overstocked and is certain to remain so until the spring, at least.

TRAIN ROBBERS IN JAIL

Clever Capture of a Whole Gang in Kansas.

Queer Account of the Theft of the Safe.

While the Messenger Was Helping the Switchman It Was Taken Out of the Car and Secreted in a Field.

Atchison, Ks., Dec. 11.—The five men, who on Tuesday night, October 20, entered the express car of a Central Branch accommodation train at Lenora, Norton county, Ks., and stole the messenger's safe, have all been arrested and are now in jail.

They are Charley O'Connor, of Atchison, O. J. Burwell and two sons, Jim and Bill, of Norton county, and Alonzo M. Franks, who recently escaped from the Logan county jail.

The stolen safe belonged to the Pacific Express company, and Superintendent J. K. Johnson, of Kansas City, and the company's attorney, B. P. Waggener, of Atchison, have been working on the case ever since the robbery occurred.

Suspicion pointed to Franks, as he had been seen in the vicinity of Lenora a few days before the robbery, and detectives were put on his track. He was captured in Iowa and taken to Kansas City, Mo., where on Friday, December 4, he made a confession implicating the parties named, which resulted in their being placed under arrest.

Franks and Jim Burwell broke jail October 13 and went to old man Burwell's place near Lenora, where they remained in hiding several days. Jim Burwell was in jail for stealing mules.

At the old man Burwell's house the five men met one night and planned the express robbery. The day before the robbery, however, the gang, evidently becoming suspicious of Franks, persuaded him to leave for Atchison, promising to send him some of the booty if the job proved successful.

Franks arrived here October 21 and hired out to a farmer near the city. On November 1 he received a letter from old man Burwell, stating that O'Conner was in Atchison, and said, look for him. Franks then wrote to O'Conner, and arranged for a meeting.

At this meeting O'Conner told Franks all about the robbery. Bill Burwell, he said, got into the car while the express messenger was assisting the switchman in the yard, as he was in the habit of doing, and took the safe, which was a small one, and handed it out to O'Conner and Jim Burwell. It was then carried into old man Burwell's field and covered up with hay.

The next night it was taken into a ravine on the prairie and blown open. The money, about $1,000, and about $800 in railroad checks were taken and turned over to old man Burwell, who still had the booty, but would be down soon to divide. The Burwells were arrested and lodged in the Norton jail. O'Conner was arrested last night at his home in Atchison and taken to the office of Mr. Waggener, where he was confronted by the confession of Franks.

At first he denied the charge, but after learning all that Franks had said he wilted, and acknowledged that he assisted in planning the job, but contended that he was not present when the robbery was committed.

O'Conner is an all-round railroad man, having been employed in several capacities on the Central Branch, the last as yard master at Lenora. He was discharged several weeks ago for neglecting his business. He is 35 years old and has a wife and one child. He owns two farms in Norton county, and a house and lot in Atchison, all of which was this morning attached by the Pacific Express company.

Franks has been sent back to Logan county, and is is understood that he will not be prosecuted for assisting in the robbery. He will be sent to the penitentiary for rape, however. O'Conner and the Burwells will no doubt go to the penitentiary. Old man Burwell's farm has also been attached.

GAVE HIM A BANQUET.

The Federation Having a High Old Time.

Gladstone Talks on the Rights of Labor and is Loudly Cheered by the Delegates.

London, Dec. 11.—The National Liberal federation this morning gave a banquet to the delegates from the rural constituencies who attended the great liberal conference yesterday at Memorial hall, Farrington street. The banquet was held at the famous Holborn restaurant and was largely attended, many of the most prominent liberal members being present. Mr. Gladstone, who was present at the request of the liberal leaders, though the grand old man is only passing through London en route to the continent, received an ovation such as no other living Englishman could receive.

During the course of the banquet Mr. Gladstone made a most important address upon the subject of rural reform, in which he practically pledged the liberal party to advocate and earnestly push forward all the reform measures, exclusively detailed in these dispatches yesterday, as forming the platform of the rural voters, or, in other words, the reforms they demand in exchange for their support at the coming general election.

The labor question had now assumed, said Mr. Gladstone, about the same proportions and aspects as the home rule question; because, he explained, the Irish farmer was really struggling with the agricultural laborer.

The project of organizing rural labor was, he said, the foremost question now before the British public as the constant and damaging migration of rural laborers to the towns, proved most conclusively.

Mr. Gladstone admitted that the government deserved credit for taking a slight step in this direction by passing a county councils bill (as referred to exclusively in these dispatches yesterday); but he said that this measure does not by any means satisfy the liberal party except in the fact that it embraces the right principle. Mr. Gladstone claimed that the liberal party would lay hold of the principle of county councils and affirmed that it was the duty of the government to provide for the establishment of district councils so as to bring self-government within the power of the labor classes throughout the country.

The great English liberal leader also strongly advocated the passage of a law for the purpose of enabling the local government bodies to acquire land in order to enable the rural population to use and profit by it to a very much greater extent than they were now able to; it was time, he said, that the land they had so long tilled for the benefit of others should give them some real profit and permanent benefit. (Cheers).

The reform of the land laws was another point ably touched upon by the distinguished speaker, who advocated the abolishment of the present system of entail, together with better facilities for the transfer of land.

Mr. Gladstone touched upon the question of reduction of the hours of labor, and said that he was in favor of reducing the amount of toil exacted from the working classes in general; but, he desired that such a reduction should be made without any violation of the rights of the employer or employed.

The principle of liberty must not be violated, he claimed, even in making these most needed reforms: Before an enforced reduction was made in the hours of labor, Mr. Gladstone would like to see it proved beyond any doubt that those who now receive low wages for long hours would at least receive the same wages for shorter hours. Therefore Mr. Gladstone recommended much care and considerable deliberation over this subject before proceeding to even recommending legislation in this direction.

A free education also received attenton from Mr. Gladstone, who earnestly advocated such a measure in connection with all schools depending upon popular support.

CONTINUES TO RAGE.

The British Isles Again Suffering Much Damage.

London, Dec. 11.—The severe storm which has been raging over the British isles for the past 24 hours continues to-day with unabated violence.

Floods in various parts of England are again playing a prominent part in the work of destruction and are inflicting further damage upon the farmers who have already suffered so much this year.

In fact, several years of uninterrupted prosperity will be necessary in many districts to make up for what the agricultural communities have lost this year owing to the series of fearful storms which have swept over the land.

HE PUT HIS FOOT IN IT

Harrison's Talk on the Awful Gerrymander

Is in Bad Taste From a Minority President.

Interesting Interviews With Michigan Men on a Subject of Much Interest to the Whole People.

Washington, Dec. 11.—The presidential assault on the Michigan electoral plan continued to be the subject of much discussion among the members of congress to-day. Representative Chipman said this afternoon:

"The president's animadversions on the Michigan form of choosing the congressional presidential electors is in very bad taste, and it is a subject which does not concern him officially. He has nothing to do with it. His strictures on the 'gerrymander' are peculiarly unfortunate, coming from a republican, especially in connection with Michigan. His party in that state have applied the gerrymander ruthlessly and have controlled the legislature by its wicked power. It has done this everywhere. He is himself a minority president and would have been defeated if the Michigan plan had prevailed throughout the country and so brought him closer to the people. I think Michigan need not feel uneasy over this wail of a republican aspirant for re-election."

"The idea that first suggests itself when reading the message in reference to the manner of choosing electors," said Representative T. A. Weadock, "is that it is an affair of the state and not the general government. The tendency to centralization of the republican party is here again exemplified. The same spirit which prompted the force bill inspires this portion of the message. Michigan is amply able to take care of her own affairs. The objection to gerrymandering is amusing. The republicans 'reapportion;' the democrats, when they do the same things are 'gerrymandering.' New York has been 'reapportioned' so that a democratic plurality of over 47,000 cannot elect a legislative majority in both branches of the legislature. The figures given in the message would probably apply to some of the districts in that state. If the state choosing electors by popular vote wish a constitutional amendment they should act first instead of having the suggestion come from the president, who is generally understood to be a candidate for renomination. The objection is not entirely free from personal interest, because the change in Michigan may cause the gentleman from Indiana to lose several electoral votes."

LOST, STRAYED OR STOLEN.

A Reward Offered for the Return of Fred Kruessler.

He Has Been Missing for Some Time and His Relatives Begin to Grow Alarmed.

New York, Dec. 11.—Frederick Kruessler, 24 years old, son of Arnold Kruessler, the wealthy broker in brewers' supplies, has been missing since November 30. The missing man was put in charge of the McCormick brewery in Roxbury, Mass., in March last.

On the day of his disappearance he was seen by one of the employes standing in front of the brewery. He has not been seen since.

Young Kruesler carried a brown Macintosh coat and had between $700 and $800 in his pocket.

THOUSANDS ARE STARVING.

Drouth and Poor Crops Are the Causes.

Mexican States in Bad Shape—The Governor of Chihuahua Buying Grain for the Poor.

San Antonio, Tex., Dec. 11.—The destitution existing among the inhabitants of Durrango and neighboring Mexican states on account of drougth and the total failure of crops has reached such a serious state that the government has been compelled to provide food to keep the people from starving.

The governor of Chihuahua has ordered 100,000 bushels of grain from the United States, which will be distributed at a minimum cost, or free to those who have no money.

Thousands of the lower classes, who are naturally thriftless, are on the point of starvation.

CONTINUES TO IMPROVE.

Washington, Dec. 11.—Secretary Foster continues to improve. He is growing stronger daily and sat up this morning for the first time since his relapse.

Ought to be smaller — the great, griping, old-fashioned pill. There's too much unpleasantness for the money. Ought to be better, too. They're big enough, and make trouble enough, to do more good.

That's just what Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets do,—more good. Instead of weakening the system, they renovate it; instead of upsetting, they cleanse and regulate it—mildly, gently, and naturally. They're the original Little Liver Pills—the smallest but most effective, purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, and easiest to take. Only one little Pellet for a laxative—three for a cathartic. Sick Headache, Bilious Headache, Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attack, and all derangements of the Liver, Stomach and Bowels are promptly relieved and permanently cured.

They're the cheapest pills you can buy, for they're guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is returned. You pay only for the good you get. It's a plan peculiar to Dr. Pierce's medicines.

The Bee

THE TOLEDO BEE COMPANY. | Elmer White, F. P. Chapin, G. G. Hadley.

THE LEADING EVENING DAILY OF OHIO

THE DAILY BEE, Five Dollars a year, ten cents a week. Eight pages every day.

THE WEEKLY BEE, Sixty Cents a year, eight pages, eight columns each.

Home Office in New Bee Building, 326 St. Clair Street: New York Office, room 206, Potter building, opposite postoffice.

Telephones, Editorial 355; Counting Room 102

TOLEDO, OHIO, DECEMBER 11, 1891.

What reminiscent can remember Indian summer in mid-December (before now?)

The republicans of Ohio are proving the charges democrats have long made against John Sherman.

Mr. Griffin appears to hold the key to the situation, and will unlock it if they hand him the speakership.

The message commends the administration of the pension bureau for its "diligence"—a very safe thing to do.

The more Congressman Mills sulks now the less prospect he has of being made chairman of the ways and means committee.

Very likely Dan Gaumer, of Zanesville, is entitled to the senatorship of the Muskingum-Licking-Delaware district but it is also very likely, and very probable that the republican senate will give Iden the seat before the middle of January.

No such things as strikes for wages in Russia, by one class of laborers at least. Those peasants who refuse to work at the public rates decreed are doomed by the Russian Famine Commission, presided over by the Czarowitch, to the lash or exile.

Blaine would like the opportunity of writing a reciprocity message of his own, peppered with jingoism, but as a democrat will be elected president next year he will have to be satisfied with being the power behind the present administration.

Congressman Haynes will have great influence in this congress, and will be able to do much for the harbors of the district. A practical business man himself he thoroughly understands the necessity of liberal appropriations for improving the lake service.

No surer confession of the wild recklessness of the Fifty-first congress in scattering the people's treasure could be made than the quiet calmness with which estimates for the coming year are cut down and retrenchment advised. The day of reckoning has begun.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean is an expert mind reader. It commends Crisp generally and says "he is against protection because the republican party is for it." The I.-O. is invited to read Congressman Crisp's speech, recommended by himself to those who question his position on the tariff.

The expense of hanging a man in the Ohio penitentiary is about $100. A murderer is to be executed next Friday and the execution fund is exhausted. Unless somebody advances the money the show will be postponed. An indefinite postponement would probably suit the victim better.

If the Nicaragua canal is the splendid scheme President Harrison pictures it, there is no need of government aid. It can stand alone. Warner Miller can't work a Pacific Railroad, Credit Mobolier job through the present congress, even with the aid of the President of the United States.

They are still gathering in pieces of the scattered dynamiter, the author of the Wall street tragedy. Eleven persons identified the head in the jar and all are proven to be mistaken. The fragment sent in yesterday had a portion of clothes clinging which may aid in identification. What a chapter of horrors.

The president's message shuts off reciprocity with one curt little paragraph. Well, who can wonder that the president feels that way? See what that little spark of reform in the direction of free trade has done for his rival, and how it has undone the prospects of himself and the wing of the party he trains with.

Mayor Grant of New York has returned from London and tells the newspapers that New York has nothing to learn from the world's metropolis. Disinterested observers would amend Mayor Grant's report by mentioning clean streets, underground wires, rapid transit sub-ways and a class of tenement houses with compelled sanitary regulations, the like of which New York knows nothing about.

Senator Sherman is one of the "old guard" of the republican party. When the degenerate party of the Now is hauled over the coals, the glorious Then is referred to, and the departed who would repudiate both the doctrines and the deeds of present day republicans are cited as guardian angels and allied saints. But republican party organs are now boldly charging this distinguished member of the old organization of "boodling" other republican officers to continue him in power, "in the place where he has grown rich and arrogant." Can these things that republicans say of republicans be true?

Jay Gould was the philosopher who said if protection crowds the laborer, he must be content to buy one coat a year where he used to buy two. Pretty soon this month Mr. Gould's daughter is to make her society debut and the packages containing the wonderful robes she is to wear on that occasion, all the way from Paris, are just escaped from the custom house. The oaken front door which will open to receive the guests cost $6,000. Of course Mr. Gould knows just what he talks about when he advises the patriotic American laborer to buy one coat a year in the interest of protected monopolies and Wall street manipulators. The price of goods here or the amount of shoddy they contain is nothing to those who buy their clothing in foreign markets. They can afford to be very philosophical.

Three bills that will command much discussion in and out of congress were introduced in the senate yesterday: By Mr. Call, to authorize the President to negotiate with Spain for the purchase of Cuba; by Mr. Stewart, to provide for free coinage of gold and silver; and by Mr. Turpie, of Indiana, to amend the constitution so as to provide for the election of United States senators by the people. The bill of Mr. Turpie has the popular indorsement of the country. It is in accord with public sentiment and very generally with public demand. The present method of choosing senators by the vote of legislatures is unsatisfactory and the time is ripe for a change. Such a bill as Mr. Turpie has introduced would probably pass the house, but it is doubtful if the senate will consent to the change. There is no doubt as to how the states would vote if they were given the opportunity. Senator Turpie is on the right track and he is an able champion of a popular measure.

If the literary culture of cities is to be determined in any measure by the reception given Sir Edwin Arnold on his American tour, then there is sharp contrast between Cincinnati and Louisville. The Commercial-Gazette says, editorially, it was fully demonstrated by the small audience that greeted Edwin Arnold, that Cincinnatians will not pay $1.50 apiece to hear any man read his poetry. And in the present instance the goods delivered were not worth the price asked. The Louisville Commercial tells of small audiences at opera and plays preceding, because people were saving their money to hear Sir Edwin Arnold, and the surmise appeared to be correct, judging from the size of the audience gathered in the Masonic temple to listen to the distinguished poet. A column report in highest praise of the readings, with incidental mention of the fine appreciation by the audience and an enthusiastic reception at the close of the entertainment emphasizes the "difference." Can Cincinnati afford this kind of thing? Is it entirely given over to pork, comic opera, politics and cranky newspaper influence?

New Brains in the Senate.

The intellectual weakness of the republican party is confessed by Mr. Clarkson when he complains that few newspapers of worth are advocates of republican policy. The same weakness will be apparent in the senate, and the contrast will be heightened by the entrance of Palmer, Hill and Vilas on the other side—three men of the first class. Of late years the democratic party has, as a rule, honored its brainiest men. The republicans have been forced by their plutocratic entanglements to substitute boodle for brain.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

And Fade Into Nothingness.

In one of Joaquin Miller's tender poems of a hopeless yearning occurs this image:

"So the sun climbs up and on and over,
And the days go out and the tides come in,
And the pale moon rubs on the purple clover
Till worn as thin and as bright as tin."

It is to be hoped the chief orb of night will now rub itself quite as thin as American tin.—Philadelphia Record.

"May Be Aye—and May Be, Aha."

Mr. Clarkson—he was with Quay, the old man said. He was with Dudley, too, and the "blocks of five." Clarkson says that Harrison is to be nominated. Well, Clarkson is chairman of the republican national committee and president of the national league of republican clubs, and he ought to know, but as the Dugald Craythur says in Rob Roy, "May be, aye; and may be, aha."—New York Telegram.

New York's Owners.

The United States at large looks on at the celebration of the British evacuation of New York with considerable amusement. The town doesn't appear to have gained much by that particular evacuation, as it is still owned, controlled and robbed by foreigners in a manner that would have made King George's redcoats ashamed.—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

What We Think About.

The democratic party doesn't seem to be afraid of "losing Texas in 1892."—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

Oh no. It is thinking more about carrying the war into Africa or "Egypt" and capturing Illinois.—Indianapolis Sentinel.

Yes, This is True.

It is true that McKinley had a plurality of 21,500 over Campbell in Ohio, but Seitz, the candidate of the people's party, had 23,472 votes, and those who cast them are all against the McKinley law.—Atlanta Journal.

Warnings Not Unheeded.

The good and the rich seem to be the present targets for the bombs and bullets of the murderous cranks, judging from the dangerous experiences of Dr. Hall and Russell Sage. This should put all editors on their guard.—Lebanon Report.

Truth-Telling is Not Their Job.

The newspapers that talks about the "protectionism of Gorman" after the Maryland senator's splendid fight against the McKinley bill cannot be said to be given to truth-telling.—New York World.

Please Furnish a Diagram.

Senator Vilas represents the education of a people who educated the party which was trying to educate them in a way they did not want to be educated.—St. Louis Republic.

Trouble Ahead.

If Europe eats American pork and drinks American whisky the effete monarchies may look out for trouble.—Atlanta Constitution.

UNIVERSITY EXTENSION.

Meeting at High School Hall Saturday Morning To Be Addressed by Superintendent Compton.

Something more than a year ago Mr. A. E. Macomber read a paper before the New Century Club on University Extension, and the merits of this comparatively new plan of disseminating knowledge. From the interest manifest in the discussion one might have been led to believe that Toledo would be speedily one of the cities to take hold of the matter in practical form. Little besides talk has transpired, however, though gentlemen interested have been corresponding relative to the formation of classes. The University of Michigan (Ann Arbor) sends out a circular in the interest of the extension plan, giving the course of lectures furnished by its Faculty, from which Mr. Macomber kindly allows the Bee to quote: The subjects of the lecture courses (six lectures to each course) are:

Greek Life and Literature; Roman Art and Literature; Assyriology and Its Bearings; German Literature; English Language; Rhetoric and Art Criticism; French Literature; English Literature; History; Philosophy; The Science and Art of Teaching; Political Economy; Music; Printing and Books; Mathematics; General Chemistry; Bacteriology; Popular Astronomy; Geology; Zoology; Elocution and Oratory; Surveying; Drawing and Perspective; Mechanical Engineering.

A meeting of teachers and others interested will be held in High School hall Saturday morning next to consider the subject. Prof. Compton will lead with an address: the Ann Arbor circular and proposition will be discussed, as also like papers from the Ohio State University at Columbus.

In connection with club, class and society talk Mr. Macomber made a suggestion to the Bee which is worthy attention: That so many of the numerous clubs and societies in the city have similar intents and purposes, some consolidation might be profitably accomplished, thus reducing the number of obligations, and of evenings employed.

Doubtless the meeting Saturday night will bring tangible results and our students who are not privileged to spend time in university class rooms will yet be able to receive the benefit of the teachings of their distinguished professors. The Bee speeds the commendable enterprise.

THAT MACKINAW CASE.

Time Extended to Pay Purchase Money—In the U. S. Court.

The Syndicate oil case continues to occupy the time of Judge Ricks and a jury in the U. S. court. It is expected that the case will be given to the jury some time to-morrow.

Yesterday afternoon Judge Ricks granted a decree extending the time given the reorganization committee of the Mackinaw road to pay in the purchase money until January 1.

MAY SPLIT THE CABINET.

Paris, Dec. 11.—A report is current here that M. Fallieres, minister of public worship, may tender his resignation. Should he take this step, it would be in consequence of dissension in the cabinet regarding the course to pursue towards the archbishops and bishops who have behaved in a hostile manner towards the government.

MENTIONED ON THE STREETS

That Capt. McMaken is becoming a very versatile orator.

That it is becoming quite the fad to start Shakespeare clubs.

That the ice man and the plumber are mutually blue these warm days.

That Toledo cannot see her way clear for a base ball club next season.

That as an exponent of political economy Mills is not in it with Tim Leroux.

That Sam Dority, of the First National bank, is the best bowler among the cyclers.

That the streets have as much mud on them as is consistent with agreeable locomotion.

That the city delivery of letters by the mail carriers is not what it should be just yet.

That Charley Nuendorff is preparing an oration on what he knows of the common council.

That stone is being hauled for the new building by the Protestant Orphans' home people.

That Sunday school attendance is looming up in anticipation of the Christmas festival.

That the necessity of a real estate board is more noticeable in Toledo than ever before.

That the Y. M. C. B. A. is talking of putting up a new block in connection with other societies.

That Jaks Weier smiles when he thinks of the Fogarty-Tanner scramble for the police clerkship.

That architects anticipate a much busier season next year than they have had the past 12 months.

That the response of Hon. James Blass to the toast "The ladies" at the O. Y. C. stag party was a gem.

That this weather develops a large number of cases of pneumonia. Keep your throat well protected.

That Coroner Roulet is hard at work on the evidence of the inquest over the dead in the Lake Shore accident.

That Clerk Bronson would rather board the police yacht Comrade and go on a trip than go to a seaside resort.

That Kerlin Bros. have made Toledo their permanent headquarters, and will operate on outside contracts from Toledo.

That guests of the Ohio Yacht club are awaiting another opportunity to partake of a deer or some other kind of roast.

That President Parsons is at work on his annual message on the question of gas. He proposes giving full facts and figures.

That there has been some dissatisfaction over the letting of the contract for the foundation of St. Patrick's new church.

That certain real estate men of the city are doing the gouging act again, and are thus doing their best to drive factories out of Toledo.

That Cincinnati is preparing an ordinance whereby no theater will be allowed to sell tickets to more people than the theater can comfortably seat.

That there is as much excitement produced on the streets by the chase of the electric car repair wagon now-a-days as by the fire department runs.

That owing to the rush for money orders, Frank Lee will not have time to write up his proposed essay on the yacht Kate Graham until after New Year.

That there are always men about the city who would rather hunt the dark side of any proposition than feel comfortable for a time on bright anticipations.

That the brakeman, O'Laughlin, of the wrecked Lake Shore train has been laid off. This might look as if the Lake Shore management felt some one was to blame.

That the Board of Trade will miss a great opportunity if it fails to entertain the Michigan Press association which passes through Toledo en route to Cincinnati this week.

THE NEW AND THE OLD HOUSE.

The new: Fair dealing for all men,
Order, not "chaos come again;"
Economy and public weal,
The ship of state on even keel.

The old: A blustering tyranny
Whose favorites sacked the Treasury;
Boastful profusion; this for law—
"When I bark, let none ope his jaw!"

The old: A nation's sore distrust
And coffers robbed of all but rust;
Force, fraud and quorums that were none;
A billion to the gutters run!

The new: A nation's confidence,
A check on waste, if pounds or pence;
Just laws, and for the poor no tax
That's not laid, too, on rich men's backs!
—New York World.

Isn't the lonely house minority just a little bit sorry that the Fifty-first congress behaved so foolishly?—Courier-Journal.

Ex-Speaker Reed may now profitably consult the weather bureau as to the truth of the prediction that he who sows the wind will reap the whirlwind.—Chicago Press.

To-day Mr. Harrison addresses a low-tariff congress—a congress of men who are mean enough to want cheap clothes and other necessaries at their real value.—New York World.

One of the most curious coincidences of the make-up of the congress soon to assemble is that it will have among its members three Taylors, and that they will represent three adjoining districts—the Eighteenth, Nineteenth and Twentieth Ohio.

Tariff reform has its foot in the stirrup in the house of representatives, and it will take its place in the saddle. When it does there will be no place on the crupper for either active or passive supporters of McKinleyism.—St. Louis Republic.

Contestants for seats in the present congress must have a very good case and a great deal of luck to succeed. The democrats have had sufficient experience of this kind in the scandalous conduct of the house committee of elections in the last congress.—Philadelphia Record.

Mr. Reed will be the leader of his party—a bare 87—on the floor of the house, but else the honor conferred upon him by the caucus will be an empty one. He will be obliged to lead the attack and head the defense against an irresistible force of the enemy, and even the prospect of glory is not brilliant. As for anything more tangible Mr. Reed will not get it. He was a mighty man in the Fifty-first congress; he will be less mighty in the Fifty-second, and yet, as leader of a small and powerless minority, he is certain to be an interesting and picturesque political figure.—Philadelphia Telegraph.

ABOUT PEOPLE.

Writing of Victo Hugo an admirer says: In private life he was simply charming. The children adored him.

As usual, they say that the woman was to blame. The wife of Kaiser Wilhelm was responsible for the removal of his beard.

Max Adams, a young man well known in Atlanta, Ga., society, has received a commission from the khedive as a captain in the Egyptian cavalry.

The Princess Victoria Mary is sweet 24, and Prince Albert Victor is 27. They say the princess isn't particularly pretty, but that she possesses all the cardinal virtues, which is where she differs from her fiance.

Bad reports have been received concerning Rev. Mr. Spurgeon. His doctors have warned him not to expect a complete recovery as his disease is running its course, but they hope that the fatal termination will be long retarded.

A copy of Jay Gould's maiden effort at authorship, the "History of Delaware County and Border Wars of New York," was recently sold at auction in Boston. Few copies of the work now exist, and the average price for which it sells is $25.

Benjamin S. Parker, of Indiana, a clear, sweet and true singer, is the author of a neat little volume of poems, entitled "Hoosier Bards." The "Bards" of whom he sings are not the poets, Whitcomb Riley or Maurice Thompson, or the other poets of the state, but they are the birds.

STILL TALKING OF THE SPEAKER.

Speaker Crisp wears a 7 3-8 hat, and it fits him at all times of the day.—Boston Herald.

There was no Keifer in the field of contestants for the honors of speakership. Every man named for the position by democratic congressmen was eminently worthy of support.—Boston Globe.

Whatever the objections to Mr. Crisp for what he has left undone in the past, one of the virtues of omission in his record gives the country assurance that he will never wear a lawn-tennis surcingle while occupying the chair.—St. Louis Republic.

Mr. Crisp will undoubtedly be a success as speaker. He has shown that he can not only keep his temper under trying circumstances, but also that he has a level head on his shoulders and is thoroughly versed in parliamentary law.—New Orleans New Delta.

The republican press cheerfully [illegible] that the election of Crisp is a black eye to tariff reform, and is wonderfully pleased at this fatal blow of securing the tariff question. They need not be over cheerful. Tariff reform is here to stay until it is accomplished.—Indianapolis Sentinel.

HERR FLICKINGER'S WAIF.

A Truthful Tale Told After—Away After—Moore.

'Twas in the summer time so sweet—
The day and date we won't determine,
That—who of all the world should meet,
One early dawn, but Hope and—Sherman.

"Whose babe are you?" The statesman eyed
The charming youngster o'er and o'er.
"Herr Flickinger's," the child replied,
"And we, I think, have met before."

Hope told her dream of yesternight,
While Sherman talked about the weather.
The morn, in sooth, was fair and bright,
And so they took their way together.

No wonder Hope, as on they passed,
Should find the sunny morning chill,
For still the shadow Sherman cast
Fell full on Hope and cooled her still.

"You seem to think," snapped Hope, "of late
The sun was made for none but you,
I ask not much, that consulate
At Frankfort-on-the-Main will do."

But Sherman shook his hoary head;
"I have so very, very many Friends who seek that post," he said,
"I must not pledge myself to any."

Hope fled disgusted. When at noon
The midday sun was fiercely burning,
Poor Hope, exhausted, changed her tune
And, straight to the Cold Chief returning,

Besought his aid. The chieftain passed
His cold hand o'er her fevered brow.
"The place is yours," he said at last,
"You see I need your presence now."

He clasped her to his bosom chill,
The only one he could have chosen.
Alas, poor Hope, stiff, stark and still,
They found her in his arms—frozen.

CLUBS AND SOCIETIES.

Some Announcements of Coming Meetings of Interest.

The Political Equality club which meets in room 9, Fort Industry block, holds its fortnightly meeting to-morrow afternoon, beginning at 3 o'clock. The question of meeting at the houses of members will be discussed, and some other changes suggested. The study hour will be conducted as usual. An invitation is extended to all women interested in school suffrage to attend. The East Side club of the same name met with Mrs. Rachel Godfrey this afternoon.

Fortnightly meeting of the New Century club this evening with Mrs. Rosa L. Segur and Mrs. Ellen S. Fray. Essay and discussion upon "A Government Machine or a Free People."

The Day Nursery circle of Kings Daughters meets at the nursery, 101 Oak street, between Huron and Superior, to-morrow afternoon. A full attendance of members is desired. The business of the nursery is now so arranged that it is probable weekly meetings will be no longer necessary.

The ladies of the Nineteenth Century club, of Perrysburg, have arranged a public meeting for the discussion of suffrage topics, at Centennial hall in that city. The address will be delivered by Mrs. C. Q. Murphy, of this city. The ladies desire all the friends of the work to attend the meeting which opens at 7:30 p. m. this evening.

By invitation, Mrs. Murphy will attend the suffrage meeting at Alexis to-morrow evening, and talk upon school suffrage for Ohio women and other phases of the suffrage question.

THE GAS TRUSTEES

Have a Short Meeting, and But Little Business Is Done.

It looked as if there was not going to be any meeting of the board of gas trustees last evening, there being but two members, Messrs. Parsons and Greene, present, but a little after 9 o'clock Dr. Jones put in an appearance.

The report of the special committee on the German Express difficulty whereby that institution was furnished gas by request of Dr. Jones when other similar institutions were shut off was read. Dr. Jones also submitted a written statement, which was also read. He denied most emphatically Mr. Backus' statement that he (Jones) had nullified the order of the board in this matter. The report was placed on file without discussion.

Receipts amounting to $7,730 were reported.

The sum of $2,052, money advanced to lay pipe, was ordered credited to the secretary and refunded.

Manager Heston reported that complaints from consumers on dead ends were less than last week, but some were still coming in.

It appears that the German Express boiler which is but a five-horse power upright consuming 200 feet an hour has not yet been cut off.

Manager Heston reported that McMahon & Co. and Kerlin Bros. were at work connecting the dead ends throughout the city.

THE OTHER SIDE.

The Little Crawford Boy Tells His Story.

Concerning the trouble Principal Beckwith had in the Ironville school Wednesday afternoon, the little Crawford boy told a Bee his story this morning. It was to this effect: By accident, his foot being in the aisle, the teacher tripped over it, and thereupon jerked him from his seat to the platform and struck him with a three-foot ruler, about the legs, hands and arms and over the head; that he did not take up the bell until he had been so punished, and until the teacher had broken the ruler in two places upon him, and in striking his hand had cut his finger so that it bled. Then, the boy said, he picked up the bell, and Mr. Beckwith knocked it out of his hand with the ruler. The boy's sister attends school in the same room, and had run home for her mother before the bell incident. The rest of the story is told by the boy and his father as given in yesterday's Bee.

Mr. Crawford said his boy was attending school again, and he meant he should behave there, but as the story of the trouble was told in the paper he wanted it known that the whipping preceded the taking up of the bell, instead of following it. He regretted that the members of the family visited the school-room while they were excited and angry, but it was the sight of the blood on the boy's hand that made them so.

NEW TRIAL GRANTED.

James Stump Will Have Another Opportunity to Prove His Innocence.

Judge Harmon last evening granted a new trial in the case of the state against James Stump, charged with horse stealing.

The jury rendered a verdict of guilty as charged in the second count of the indictment, which was that of receiving stolen property.

The new trial was granted by the court, for the reason that evidence failed to show that the property was received in Lucas county.

OUR WISE CONTEMPORARIES.

An orator likes to be called "breezy," but never windy.—Washington Star.

Bilkins—I know what I want. Filkins—Then you must know a great deal.—Somerville Journal.

When there is work to be done the buzzsaw is always willing to take a hand.—Yonkers Statesman.

A round-shouldered man with a big button-hole nosegay has an overloaded look.—Philadelphia Record.

A theatrical company may start out with only one walking gentleman, but that doesn't signify the number it will bring back.—Binghamton Republican.

Every woman believes that if her husband could be married to some other woman a week he would know better how to appreciate her.—Atchison Globe.

Teacher—Georgie Gazzam, what is the meaning of the word transparent? Georgie—Something you can see through. "Right. Now give an example." "A ladder is transparent."—Harper's Bazar.

A lady in Paris was out of patience and spirits at hearing nothing but French day after day. One morning she heard a cock crowing and exclaimed: "Thank heaven, there's somebody who speaks English."—London Tid-Bits.

"Why do you suppose Royal Worcester Ware is marked with four W's?" asked one China connoisseur of another. "I s'pose," remarked a ten-year-old nephew who had overheard, "the man that marked it stuttered."—Harper's Young People.

Things One Would Rather Have Expressed Differently: Doctor—How is the patient this morning? Nurse—Well, he has been wandering a good deal in his mind. Early this morning I heard him say, "What you [illegible] woman that doctor is!" and I think that that was about the last really rational remark he made.—London Punch.

LOCAL LABOR NEWS.

Blacksmiths' Helpers Elect Delegates—Other Meetings.

At the regular meeting of the Blacksmiths' Helpers union last evening, the following delegates were elected to the Central Labor union: F. Thompson, Adolph Miller, Geo. Cherry and August Flaman.

The Carpenters' union at its regular weekly meeting elected the following officers: President, E. G. McFillen; vice president, F. Schofield; recording secretary, L. O. Kemp; financial secretary, Aug. Smith; treasurer, M. B. McFillen; conductor, C. E. McBride; warden, H. Jack; trustee, W. W. White.

The local organizations of the city are in receipt of a circular asking all members to obtain from buying stoves made by the Rochester Co-Operative Foundry company.

Following is the report of the free employment office for the week ending December 10:

THE CLOSING SESSION

Of the Northwestern Medical Association—Election of Officers.

This afternoon the annual meeting of the Northwestern Ohio Medical association adjourned to meet in June next at Sandusky.

President—Dr. Jesse Snodgrass, of Kenton.

First Vice-President—Dr. Thos. Hubbard, Toledo.

Second Vice-President—Dr. August Rhu, Marion.

Secretary—D. W. Steiner, Lima.

Assistant Secretary and Treasurer—Dr. T. M. Gehrelt, Deshler.

Last evening the delegates were entertained by Dr. Tupper at the insane asylum and the evening session was held there.

An amendment to the constitution making an annual assessment of $1 each to the state organization was adopted.

Dr. Thorne, of Toledo, the retiring president, read an interesting and instructive address at the session this forenoon.

"Adenoid Vegetation About the Pharynx" was the subject of Dr. North's paper, and this afternoon Dr. Thos. Hubbard, of Toledo, read an interesting paper.

The meeting adjourns sine die this afternoon.

WILL BECOME A CATHOLIC.

Mrs. Matthew H. Carpenter Decides to Join the Church of Rome.

Milwaukee, Wis., Dec. 11.—The announcement that Mrs. Matthew H. Carpenter, widow of the late Senator Carpenter, has joined the Catholic church has caused a great deal of surprise in this city.

Mrs. Carpenter has been a member of St. John's cathedral. Seven or eight years ago Miss Lillian Carpenter, Mrs. Carpenter's eldest child, became a convert to the Roman faith. She had previously been a communicant of the Episcopal church, and her action in joining the Roman church caused a profound sensation in society circles.

It was wholly unexpected. Her conversion was the result of Mgr. Capel's visit to Milwaukee. Only a few weeks ago society was again surprised by the announcement that Paul D. Carpenter, Mrs. Carpenter's only other child, and Miss Falk, who has since become his bride, had become members of the Roman Catholic church.

A NEW GAME.

There is a new game which is called tema and which is an adaptation of Japanese polo. This is the way it is played, according to a young woman who claims to be proficient:

A screen eight feet high has a circular hole in the middle 18 inches in diameter, called the goal, and having a net behind it. Twenty feet away is a roped in area in which the players stand. They are ranged in sides, the white and the red. At the end of the area farthest from the screen are stores of red and white balls less than two inches in diameter, and it is the business of each side to throw its balls into the goal. The throwing is done by means of an implement called the wand—a slender bamboo three feet in length, with a tiny net at the end. The balls are picked up in this net and slung toward the goal. This would probably be very tame, but there is another provision, which is that players of one side may interfere with the others and do all they can to prevent the balls from being thrown. This at once introduces an element of skill, as the ball, once in the net of the wand, can be manipulated and maneuvered, and a great variety of throws are open to the players. The picking up of the ball is a pretty and dexterous action, while it is almost impossible to be ungraceful in throwing it. The extreme lightness of the wand (the maximum weight is four ounces) renders the sport much less violent than tennis, which some people think in its favor.

A GEORGIA CRACKER.

Novel Scenes in the Heart of the Blue Ridge.

The Atlanta Journal has a bright staff of regular contributers, among whom is Montgomery M. Folsom. A late contribution of his to the Journal, in the form of a personal letter, is a vivid picture of scenes few of the Bee readers have ever witnessed. It is as follows:

Heart-of-the-Mountains,
December 1, 1881.

Dear John—I know you would enjoy a trip like this.

Nipping and breezy was the wind from the west as we went driving away into the heart of the Blue Ridge.

Past Grassy knob, Bald mountain and all the cohorts of nut-brown hills that intersect this picturesque region, and through deep valleys and gloomy gorges we drove, and Texas Jack and Mexican Frank, the two black jack rabbit ponies, climbed the hills and leaped through the valleys with a don't-care-a-cuss sort of an air, as if they enjoyed the jaunt quite as much as we.

The sun came up from the east and spread his golden mantle over the autumn wands and reflected his glory in the crystal creeks that went flashing by in the distance far below.

It was nipping cold and I got out to walk. While the ponies climbed the steep hill, I turned aside by a rounded path, and from rock to rock leaped upward until I reached the craggy crest of the hill.

As I paused for breath, there burst upon my vision a scene of wild and unearthly beauty undescribable. And I heard a mighty roar as of a passing freight train, and I thought it was an echo from the distant valley where the railroad winds in and out among the hills.

* * *

Amicolola, the beautiful!

As I turned my head I beheld a sight that is seldom witnessed by the casual traveler.

A mile away there was a broad sheet of molten silver, fresh from nature's crucible, pouring over a gray and weather worn cliff, and far below the muffled thunder of the cataract boomed and the spray arose in a cloud of many hued mist that froze upon the evergreen laurel, the stunted cedar and the emerald spruce, until they looked like a veritable thicket of Christmas trees just waiting for Kris Kringle to come along and pluck them by the roots. It was sublime. The dancing waves of the Amicolola river rushing down through the narrow gorge and taking that fearful leap like southbound mermaids fleeing from the frost.

And then the awful roar of the water upon the fretting and querulous rocks away down in the haunted depths, and the wraiths of mist rising upward in prismatic splendor, reflecting all the broken tints of the sun.

A thousand rainbows in one from the icicle laden shrubbery, and the dark browed spectators—the crested peaks of the mighty range—stolidly looking on.

Like old Elijah, when he heard the "still small voice," I felt that God was there.

"Do you want to see some contraband?" asked my companion.

"Certainly, if you think Col. Darnell will not have me up for a witness."

"Well, you needn't say anything about it."

"All right, drive on."

(That's the reason, John, I write you this privately.)

We were spinning along right merrily, and the sun, low in the west, had turned the red side of his blanket toward the drowsy world.

"Yes."

"That is our destination, but we must have a pilot."

Descending a rocky slope set up on edge, we pulled up in front of a double log cabin, flanked by a crib with a shed to its side broader than the crib itself, and on the other side an apple orchard where the ancient trees were nearly as big as my body, John; and on the topmost branches hung a few withered reminders of last summer's crop.

"Hello, bud, where's the old man?" asked my fellow traveler of a ganderlegged youth to whose chin the top of my derby would hardly reach.

"Down in the holler. What yo' want? Sumthin'?"

"Well, a leetle drop wouldn't hurt."

"No, hit's raal cold 's ethenin'. Ahem! Who's that feller with yo'?"

"Oh, he's a scamperer. All right. No tales out o' school."

"Foller me, then, and yo' kin hitch yer horses at the creek."

After fastening the team we followed our guide up a wooded ridge and down below yawned a cavernous gorge in the deeps of which we could hear the murmurs of many waters.

Our guide paused and blew a shrill whistle through his fingers, and in an instant came an answering signal from below.

"All right," he muttered laconically, over his shoulder, and we began the descent.

John, I tell you, it was like the descent of one of those classic worthies into the regions of Pluto. I felt for my pocketbook, and then remembered that it was as empty as usual, and I felt better.

"Purty rough jump here, look out that you don't slip." And we half leaped, half slid down the frozen face of the gorge, and beheld the blockade.

We were in the presence of one who bids defiance to the authorities of the biggest nation on earth.

John, you ought to see one "making a run." The still was a simple wash-pot affair with a wooden cap, and the piping was of hollowed trees through which the water of a mountain spring flowed smoothly, and the worm was of the same crude manufacture.

But down at the latter end trickled comfortably a tiny stream of the all-glorious that would make an Atlanta toper's heart ache just to get a sniff of it. They call it "Mountain Dew," and I'll be hanged if ain't nearly that, John, when it first issues from those hollow logs in all its purity.

"Chunk the fier, mister."

"Certainly," I answered, and I proceeded to comply.

"Yo' see, we do that fur a pu'pose," said the gray whiskered old man, with a grin, "sence chunkin' the fier you're jest as much into it as us."

That was a bran new scheme to me, but I accepted the proposition gracefully.

"Have somethin'?" said the old man to my companion.

"Yes, if you've something handy."

Reaching back he pulled out a half gallon jug, with a corn cob stopper, and offered it to us. My companion took a hearty swig, and I—well, John, you know it was bitter cold.

* * *

"Thar's agwine to be a frolic over yan side o' the mount'n," said our guide, "would yo' like to go?"

"Yes, we'd like to have a little fun," answered my fellow traveler.

By the time we got out and across the ridge it was dark. Not the inky darkness of a smoke-befogged town, but the tawny twilight of a country that is away up near the skies.

"Thar's whar they buried Zeb Rawlins, the outlaw. The revynue men couldn't ketch 'im; but he got in a scrape about er 'omern, and a feller laywaid 'im and kilt 'im one col' night in Jinnerwerry."

And the dark rock-pines like tossing plumes, their arms around, around him wave,

Zeb Rawlins, the outlaw! Did you ever consider that Moses, the law-giver, was an outlaw?

There were lights in the valley, one big, ruddy blaze indicated where the log farm house stood, whither we were destined. A dozen others were flitting like Jack-o-lanterns to and fro, pine torches borne by those who were seeking the same heaven.

As we stumbled down the rocky path I heard the sound of a regular old-fashioned fiddle, and the stamp, stamp, stamp of the fiddler as he timed the music with his foot.

"Chaw down-n,
Miss Nancy Cyarter;
Chaw down-n-n
For everybody!"

The mellow strain fell upon my astonished ears like echoes from a far-off land, and I thought of the piney woods of southern Georgia, and the songs those crackers sing I love so well. In fact, John, they are sacred to my memory.

We entered without knocking. The folks had moved the bed and chairs out of that end into "yan end," and the young people had it all their own way. It was—

Is good for pains in the body;
And chaw down,
Miss Nancy Cyarter,
Chaw down-n,
For, everybody-y!"

I met the old man of the house and received a warm welcome.

The most hospitable people on God's green earth are these mountain folks, when they can show clear credentials.

* * *

Being, as you know, John, a domestic sort of a cuss, I went into "yan room" and took a seat in the corner by the old lady.

"Give me a light, please," I asked politely.

"Oh, fling away that ol' ciggar an' lemme give you a pipe. Hit's a cob pipe, to be shore, but you town men orter l'arn some sense, sometimes."

"Oh, mammy, we're havin' such fun in yander. But I do 'spise to dance with Bill Brinson; he's sich a long-legged feller, and he tries to dance all over Fannin county when he gits started."

"Thar's a newspaper feller over thar, Nancy, and he haint got sich long laigs. S'posen you yank him. He haint danced none yit, and I 'speck he's jest ahonin fur a reel."

"Yes," said I, as I walked upon those dawn-rose streets that cannot be matched in the world outside the north Georgia mountains, "I would like to try a swing too."

From the land of sunny France,
Where they tell their witching love tales
In the pauses of the dance!

But that just beat all ever I tried. We balanced all, promenaded, hands all rounded and swung corners until I was so bewildered I only remember, John—

"Ginseng tea and contraband
Chaw down!
Miss Nancy Cyarter,
Chaw down-n!

THE CAUSE OF RHEUMATISM.

An acid which exists in sour milk and cider, called lactic acid, is believed by physicians to be the cause of rheumatism. Accumulating in the blood, it attacks the fibrous tissues in the joints, and causes agonizing pains. What is needed is a remedy to neutralize the acid, and to so invigorate the kidneys and liver that all waste will be carried off. Hood's Sarsaparilla is heartily recommended by many whom it has cured of rheumatism. It possesses just the desired qualities, and so thoroughly purifies the blood as to prevent occurrence of rheumatic attacks. We suggest a trial of Hood's Sarsaparilla by all who suffer from rheumatism.

Special Master's Sale.

United States of America, Northern District of Ohio.

The Central Trust Company of New York Complainant, v. The Cincinnati, Jackson & Mackinaw Railroad Company and others, Defendants. Consolidated Causes. In the Circuit courts of the United States for the Northern District of Ohio, Western division, and for the Southern district of Ohio, Western division, and for the Eastern district of Michigan, and for the Western district of Michigan, Southern division. In equity.

Notice is hereby given that in pursuance of a decree of the Circuit Court of the United States for the Northern district of Ohio, Western division, entered in the above entitled cause on June 5, 1891, and of a decree of the Circuit Court of the United States for the Southern district of Ohio, Western division, entered in the above entitled cause on July 1, 1891, and of a decree of the Circuit Court of the United States for the Eastern district of Michigan, entered in the above entitled cause on June 29, 1891, and of a decree of the Circuit Court of the United States for the Western district of Michigan, Southern division, entered in the above entitled cause on June 30, 1891, and of an order of said circuit court of the United States for the Northern District of Ohio dated November 14th, 1891, and of orders of said other circuit courts adopting the same, we, Benjamin F. Wade and Hiram F. Carleton, the Special Masters designated, by said decrees, will sell without appraisement, at public auction, to the highest bidder or bidders, in the United States court room, in the City of Toledo, County of Lucas, and State of Ohio, at three o'clock, p. m. on the 22nd day of December, 1891, that portion of the mortgaged premises and property mentioned in said decrees, and thereby directed to be sold known as the Central Division of the Cincinnati, Jackson & Mackinaw Railroad Company, being the property described in the first mortgage of the Cincinnati, Van Wert & Michigan Railroad Company, dated April 14, 1881, together with the proportion of equipment, material and supplies appertaining to such Division, which upon the reference ordered in said decrees, shall be decreed by the court to properly belong to the same, and to be covered by said mortgage. The same will be sold in the manner and upon the terms hereinafter stated, viz: Said property will be offered for sale as an entirety, without appraisement or redemption. No bid will be accepted therefor from any bidder for a sum less than $150,000, nor from any bidder who shall not, if requested by the Special Masters, place in their hands, or deposit with them, as a pledge that he will make good his bid, if accepted by the court, the sum of $15,000 in cash, or first mortgage bonds of said Cincinnati, Van Wert & Michigan Railroad Company to the amount of $100,000 of principal.

Of the price for which said property shall be sold, there shall be paid in cash, at the time of the sale, a sum equal to the amount of cash deposit hereinbefore required, and also, at the same time, and from time to time thereafter, such further portions of said purchase price as the court may direct; and the court reserves the right to reject any bid, and to take and to sell said premises and property, upon failure of any purchaser for twenty days to comply with any order of the court requiring payment. The balance of the purchase price not required to be paid in cash may either be paid in cash, or the purchaser may satisfy and make good said balance of his bid, in whole or in part, by paying over the out-standing First Mortgage Bonds secured by said mortgage and overdue coupons, and the outstanding Income Bonds, or either, at such price or value as shall be equivalent to the amount that the holders thereof would be entitled to receive thereon, in case the entire purchase price were paid in cash. If any bid shall be accepted by the court, and the person making the same shall fail to comply with all the conditions of sale and all orders of the court with respect thereto, the sum deposited by the bidder shall be forfeited, and shall be applied as the court may direct.

Reference is hereby made to the said decrees for a more specific description of the mortgaged property therein ordered to be sold, and for further particulars of the terms and conditions of sale.

IF WE COULD KNOW.

If we could know when soft replies,
And smiling lips, and tranquil eyes
Hide hearts that tremble, throb and ache,
As silently they grieve and break
Beneath their mask of graceful lies,
We might not deem ourselves so wise
To measure grief by tears and sighs;
Some hasty judgments might not wake,
But spare for hidden sorrow's sake,
Our friend behind his gay disguise.

If we could know how in the mines
Of tenderness the pure gold shines,
We might not feel the smarting stings,
The longed-for message often brings
From heart that round our own entwines,
We'd read between the formal lines
And careless words, unerring signs
Of love that upward, onward springs
To meet its own on steadfast wings,
And commune hold on sacred shrines.

Which is to Open at Memorial Hall This Evening—The Program, Committees and Other Information

At Memorial hall this evening will occur the first presentation of the Ys Calendar carnival, and it promises to be the most magnificent festival ever attempted in this city. The annual entertainments of this organization have always been the events of the season, and this time they have made preparations to eclipse any and all of their previous efforts. The carnival will continue tomorrow evening, and a matinee, intended especially for the children, will be given in the afternoon.

All of the members of the Ys will participate in this festival of pleasure, and they will also be assisted by numbers of their friends outside of the society.

Military hall, in the Memorial building, has been transformed into a magnificent palace by the hands of the carpenter and decorator. On all sides are beautiful booths, and every nook and corner has some attraction. The program will consist of fancy marches and drills, a live doll show, and plenty of music, while each evening is opened by a grand march in which all who participate in the entertainment will take part. There will be over 250 costumed merry makers in this march, and it will be a great spectacle.

Many tickets have been sold, and the Ys are already assured of crowded houses.

The arrangement committee in charge of the entertainment is made up as follows: Mrs. J. Ellery Eaton, chairman; Miss Nettie Marker, evening program; Misses Louise Claflin, Amelia Bruksieker, matinee program; Miss Jeanette Claflin, printing; Misses Bertha Taylor, Irene Fuller, Louise Gafill, Olive Vandeburg, Hortense Mallory, advertising; Misses Mary Warner, Anna Morse, booths; Misses Una Crim, Jessie Foster, distribution of tickets; Mr. A. A. Barber, chairman of honoraries.

The reception committee is composed of the following ladies:

Misses Elizabeth Aris, Helen Beach, Nellie Bash, Kathryn Buck, Susie Balfe, Josephine Barber, Belle Blakeslee, Nellie Bowen, Helen Brigham, Lotta Burchfield, Adah Burchfield, Louise Corlett, Gertrude Candee, Harriet Davis, Millie Davis, L. E. Donnelly, Olive Donaldson, Maud Durand, May Eddy, Aurelia Fish, Dollie Fisher, Adelia Fox, Eleanor Balfe, S. ITS EXCELLENT QUALITIES

Commend to public approval the California liquid fruit remedy Syrup of Figs. It is pleasing to the eye and to the taste, and by gently acting on the kidneys, liver and bowels, it cleanses the system effectually, thereby promoting the health and comfort of all who use it.

HE WOULD NOT SERVE.

Dayton, O., Dec. 11.—B. F. Reist, the only out-and-out republican on the police board, tendered his resignation to the board. He declines to serve on a so-called non-partisan board where there are really three democrats to one republican. The resignation grew out of the Freeman-Norris investigation.

SAWTELLE WILL BE HANGED.

Concord, N. H., Dec. 11.—The court has arrived at a decision in the Sawtelle case and it was mailed to Dover. The judges decline to grant a new trial. People here are pleased.

TWO TALES OF A DOG.

A City Canine Who Was Up to All the Tricks.

The members of the Hirssig Gun club are all lovers of good dogs and the friends of the members take great pleasure in having fun with them on this subject. Several new dogs have been added to the kennel recently, some of them good ones, but it remained for some wag to play a joke that it took several days to mature.

The last dog purchased was highly prized. He had all the appearance of being a hound. The boys started out in high hopes of bringing in all the game in the woods. A rabbit, hopping across the field, attracted attention, and the trigger was pulled, and "Rush," which was the name given the new dog, was told to "fetch it." On looking around, the true value of the dog was plainly shown. He was a city dog, and was not used to the ways of field hunting. He had always been afraid of firecrackers and the noise of the gun, as both barrels went off, was too much for his sensitive nerves, and he tied himself up in a knot and howled hideously, and with his tail between his legs made a bee line in the opposite direction of the game.

It was lucky for "Rush" that both barrels were fired at the rabbit, otherwise he would have got one. To say that the hunting club was disgusted does not do justice to the situation, and after a council of war had been held it was decided to tie a tin can on his tail and cast "Rush" loose on a cold and deserted world.

But even if "Rush" had wasted all his days in the city, and knew none of the ways of the field shooting, he had certainly learned a trick or two that stood him well in hand. "Rush" was corralled and the tin can neatly adjusted to his tail and he was told to go.

"Rush" turned and gave his persecutors a pitying glance, picked up the slack in the rope with his teeth and trotted off merrily toward the city. He had been reared in that part of the city known as Wild Cat Chute, and a tin can on his tail was no novelty.

Missouri is the most populous state west of the Mississippi, and is nearly as big as all New England.

A CHAMBER OF HORRORS.

The apartment to which the unhappy wretch is confined by inflammatory rheumatism is indeed a chamber of horrors. Appalling are the tortures inflicted by this agonizing complaint, and those endured by persons suffering from milder forms of it are severe enough. Obstinate as it is in its mature development, it is surely remediable at the outset with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, an infinitely safer as well as more effective remedy than the poisons often used to subdue it. Always should it be borne in mind by those seeking relief from rheumatism, that though conquerable in the incipient stage, it is not only stubborn but dangerous when fully developed, on account of its tendency to attack the vital parts. This consideration should lead to the early adoption of curative measures. The Bitters will overcome malarial, kidney, dyspeptic and bilious trouble.

NEW POWER IN ENGLAND

Rural People Banding Into a Union

To Demand More Beneficial Legislation.

The Platform of the Liberal Conference—A Farmers' Alliance on a Gigantic Scale—The Caucus King in Charge

London, Dec. 11.—The liberal conference was engineered by Mr. F. Schnadhorst, the British "caucus king," and is intended to draw the rural classes more closely around the standard of liberalism by promising to urge the passage of measures calculated to benefit them.

All the liberal organizations in every county parliamentary division in England and Wales are represented by two delegates.

As there are 260 county divisions, the number of delegates assembled may be estimated at about five hundred. In addition there are about 500 persons present in official capacities, including many members of parliament whose names have not been mentioned above and delegates from numerous labor organizations.

Dr. Spence Watson, who is chairman of the national liberal federation for the present year, presided.

The platform of the conference is about as follows:

In each parish or group of parishes a parish council is to be elected by all possessing either parliamentary or county council franchise; the voting at such elections to be by ballot and on the principle of "one man, one vote."

The parish council is to meet in the evening at fixed intervals, to have power to use for its meetings the room of any school in receipt of a public grant; the meeting of the council to be open to the public; such council to serve for three years.

The power of these parish councils are to include the control of any allotments created under the existing allotment acts; iniative in applying for land for allotments under existing allotment acts; and with small holdings, with power to take over existing allotments when arrangements for this purpose can be made; iniative in applying for land for village hall, library, places of worship, recreation grounds, dwellings and other similar purposes and the management of public buildings, recreation grounds, etc., so obtained, the control of parish charities, and full representation on governing bodies of larger charities affecting the parish; supervision of commons, public foot paths, rights of way with power to take action in case of encroachments, power to obtain on formal application to the district county council, immediate inspection of, or inquiry into, the alleged insanitary condition of any dwelling, or of any nuisance, or state of water supply; finally the management of the parish school or full representation and a representative board of managers working under a school authority in a wide area.

All the above reforms under the head of "local government."

The next large plank in the rural voters' platform is termed "reform industries, or provision for open meetings of parishioners." In substance it is as follows: Parish meetings are to be held from time to time or to be summoned on special occasions by the chairman of the parish council, at the request of a specified number of rate-payers and at an annual meeting the parish council is to make a full report to the inhabitants of all matters affecting the parish.

District councils are to replace the existing boards of guardians with powers relating to sanitary matters, poor law and other subjects, the members of these councils to be elected on the principle of "one man one vote," care being taken that the district councils shall not impair the efficiency of the parish councils.

Under the head of "Lands and Dwellings" the rural voters advocate in regard to ownership and transfer by change by register, prohibition of the system of life estates and the abolition of the law of primogeniture in cases of intestacy.

For the tenant farmers, complete security for their improvements is asked, as well as an extension of their rights to receive compensation, with a more simple and less expensive method of so doing. For the same class of farmers prohibition of arbitrary restrictions and cultivation and protection against arbitrary eviction are demanded.

On behalf of the inhabitants of country districts, generally, reform of the existing allotment act by removing restriction to one acre, giving of security of tenure and the right to erect buildings is asked for. For the county residents, the liberals will also try to obtain compulsory powers for the county council, at the instance of the parish councils, to purchase or hire land at a fair price, for public purposes, dwellings and small holdings, with security of tenure.

In addition, rates are to be divided between the owner and the occupier.

As to educational reform, representative school authority is to be established in each district, councils are to work in concert with elective boards of managers in each parish. Free education is demanded "from top to bottom" in all elementary schools receiving public grants, together with popular representative control. In this connection, the liberal voters also ask for the development of practical instruction in relation to the various employments of those who live in rural districts, special regard to be paid to agriculture.

These suggestions are not final suggestions. They are subject to review and probable extension.

During the course of the first part of to-day's session Mr. Joseph Arch made a most eloquent speech, in which he touched upon and advocated in the main all the points referred to in the above platform, and particularly urged the granting of allotments to rural laborers and others in order to prevent them from flocking into the already overcrowded towns and causing there by their presence and demands for work, an increase in the already large amount of misery existing.

QUARRELED AT A FUNERAL.

A Disgraceful Scene at the Burial of the St. Etienne Victims.

Paris, Dec. 11.—During the funeral ceremonies at the cemetery where the many victims of the St. Etienne mine explosions were interred, M. Douvelour, vice chairman of the colliery company at St. Etienne, and M. Girodet, mayor of St. Etienne, quarreled over a question of etiquette.

A disgraceful scene ensued which resulted in a challenge to fight a duel. This has been accepted and the disputants are now making preparations for the "affair of honor."

NORTHWESTERN MILLERS.

The Output Last Week Was Large—Trade and Prices.

Minneapolis, Minn., Dec. 11.—The Northwestern Miller says: The improved water power enabled the mills to increase their output last week, the aggregate production for the week being 181,200 barrels—averaging 30,215 barrels daily—against 173,050 barrels the previous week, 114,600 barrels for the corresponding time in 1890, and 146,000 barrels in 1889.

The weather continues to favor the water power, and, while it is by no means very good, there is quite a little flour being ground by water. There were 17 mills running yesterday, grinding at the rate of about 29,000 barrels daily.

The grain blockade at Chicago is being felt here, and it is anticipated that a serious time will be experienced in two or three weeks to get cars for moving the product of the mills. While the flour market has not been very active for a week back, most millers report sales not far from the average.

Both foreign and domestic trade has been fair, the latter mainly for patent. Baker's is not in very good demand, and low grades are even less sought after.

Some of the local firms state that the strength shown in wheat this week has had the effect of sending in a good many orders.

British buyers made bids for some big lots of patents, but they were about 9d below millers' views and had to be rejected. The higher cost of wheat has induced quite a number of the mills to advance flour about 10 cents per barrel.

Through ocean rates from Minneapolis are quoted at 52 cents per 100 barrels to London, Liverpool and Glasgow.

The exports of flour last week were 89,340 barrels, against 60,230 barrels the preceding week. London quotations per 280 pounds c. i. f. are: Patents, 31s 9d @33; bakers, 29s 6d@30s; low grades, 18s 6d@19s 6d.

Interesting Personal Mention Gathered by a Bee in a Handsome Little Ohio City.

Norwalk, Dec. 11.—(Special)—A change in the management of the Experiment News, the democratic daily organ of this city, is in contemplation.

Howard French, a popular clerk in Malcolm Patrick's drug store, died Tuesday night of typhoid fever. He was a son of L. W. French, of Wakeman.

The Forest City lodge, K. of P., this city, chartered a "special" on the W. & L. E. last night and went to Huron, where they worked the amplified third degree.

Lieutenant Whyler, of the Cleveland fire department, is likely to be promoted shortly to a captaincy. Mr. Whyler is a Norwalk boy and has been a most efficient man in the Cleveland department.

Mrs. Jump, mother of County Treasurer A. O. Jump, died Monday night at Joliet, Ill., where she was visiting relatives. Her home was at Chicago Junction, this county.

Mrs. H. P. Tyler, a former well known resident of this city, died a few days ago at her home in Muncie, Ind.

Maj. E. R. Kellogg, of the Eighth United States infantry, a brother of Miss N. C. Kellogg, of Toledo, who has been stationed at Fort Washakie, Wyoming, has been transferred to Fort McKinney, Wyoming.

Mrs. Grove Robbins, of Mansfield, who lost her two and only children a short time ago with diphtheria, has since been deserted by her husband. She was a former resident of this city and was a Miss Emma Palfreyman.

Von Caprivi's Talk to the Reichstag To-Day.

Treaties Have Been Formulated With a Feeling That Very Soon Wars May Break Out.

Berlin, Dec. 11.—Chancellor Von Caprivi opened the debate on the new commercial treaties in the reichstag today. After explaining the effect of the treaties on the commercial relations of Germany, Austria and Italy, the chancellor said that the treaties show that Germany has also made a good agreement with America and Russia, especially in the matter of the reduction of corn duties on imports from those countries, from five to three and a half marks.

This was a great reduction, said the chancellor, though it was necessary in order to secure provisions in the event of a future war.

The reduction, he claimed, entitled no sacrifices on the part of the German farmers owing to the present high prices of cereals, which more than amply covered any differences in prices which might be caused by the reduced duties.

Chancellor Caprivi, continuing, said that the reduction of wine duties would make Germany a field of battle against French wines and would undoubtedly make German wine growers successful competitors against their French neighbors in foreign markets.

The dreibunds' peaceful principles, combined with interior necessity, compelled the adoption of the commercial alliances by the powers forming the triple alliance. Switzerland had joined the commercial union, proving its neutral character.

Herr Von Reichensperger, leader of the Catholic party, demanded the unanimous vote of the reichstag in favor of the treaties, without further debate. He stated that the chancellor undoubtedly voiced the feeling of the whole nation regarding the zollverein. This statement was greeted with general applause.

Foster's Estimate of Funds Needed Next Year.

Some Interesting Items Congress Will be Called Upon to Discuss at Length This Session.

Washington, Dec. 11.—Secretary Foster to-day transmitted to the speaker of the house of representatives, for the information of congress, the estimates of appropriations required for the service of the fiscal year 1893, as furnished by the heads of the several executive departments.

Although the totals of these estimates under the several general heads, were given in the annual report of the secretary of the treasury made public this morning, some of the details are of interest.

The estimate for army and navy pensions is $147,064,550, which is a decrease of $3,748,583 from the amount appropriated on account of pensions for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1892, which includes a deficiency appropriation of $29,350,598.

The amount of the estimates under the general head of naval establishment is $26,365,654, which is something over $5,000,000 less than the present appropriation. Nearly all of this reduction is made in the estimate for increase of the navy, the estimate for this item being $12,230,855. For new machinery for the Washington navy yard, $100,000 is asked, and for the purchase of steel plates $50,000. For the building of the library of congress, $1,035,000 is asked. This is about $440,000 in excess of the present appropriation.

Among the estimates for public buildings are the following: Clarksville, Tenn., postoffice, $10,000; Cincinnati custom house and sub-treasury, $100,000; Chicago custom house and sub-treasury, $100,000; Erie, Pa., postoffice, etc., $6,000; Omaha, Neb., court house, etc., $100,000; Pueblo, Col., postoffice, etc., $75,000; Sioux City, Iowa, postoffice, etc., $75,000; Sioux Falls, S. D., postoffice, $75,000.

"All the Comforts of Home" at Wheeler's.

Sol Smith Russell To-Morrow Night—He Will Have a Great Reception.

William Gillette's splendid new comedy, entitled "All the Comforts of Home," played to a good house at Wheeler's last evening. The piece is of a high class, far removed from the farce comedy line, and is full of good things. The plot is good and consists of making a bewildering mixture of the characters, most of whom represent eccentric lodgers who apply at a rich man's house for board. The graceless nephew is running things in the old man's absence and he lets them all in. This complication creates much fun and produces many startling situations.

The company is a good one of clever comedians, numbering among its members, Joseph Allen, Archibald Cooper, Mrs. Sol Smith, George M. Kidder, Eleanor Merron, Georgia Busby, and Edwin Brown.

The play will be repeated this evening.

Sol Smith Russell.

The advance sale of seats for Sol Smith Russell has been the largest of the season and there are only a very few seats left in the house and these are in the balcony. All the first floor was sold on the opening day. This engagement will be one of the events of the season and many theater parties of society people will attend. A large number of seats have also been sold to out of town people.

Eleven Prisoners Manage to Get Out of the Galesburg Jail

Galesburg, Ill., Dec. 11.—The jail delivery occurred here during the night, eleven prisoners escaping from the prison. There seems to have been outside assistance. Three iron bars, an inch thick, which guarded one of the windows, were cut and ropes made of the bed-ticking with which the prisoners descended in safety. None of the fugitives have been recaptured yet.

MORE MYSTERY THAN EVER.

The Bottle in Court Did Not Contain Poison.

Judge Macon Takes a Good Drink of it to Show the Jury What Effect it Would Have on Him.

Denver, Col., Dec. 11.—For the first time since the trial of her husband for the poisoning of Mrs. Barnaby, Mrs. Dr. Graves appeared in court yesterday. Her presence had a decided effect in enlivening the spirits of the accused.

The prosecution resumed their case by calling to the stand Prof. J. A. Sewell, the chemical expert. He examined the contents of the bottle from which Mrs. Barnaby drank and found that 2 1-2 per cent. of the liquid therein was white arsenic. He did not believe there had ever been any whisky in the bottle. If there was, he said, it must have been very much diluted.

The examination was made in April shortly after Mrs. Barnaby had died.

The bottle was produced in court and identified. Prof. Sewell stated that the contents of the bottle, which would hold about one pint, were brownish red in color. The bottle contained about eleven ounces of the poison. He was not informed that five ounces of it had been taken by Mrs. Barnaby.

Capt. McPartland, at the head of the western division of the Pinkerton detective force, was placed upon the stand and related the experiences the bottle went through while in his possession. He took it to Chicago and gave part of its contents to Prof. Haines for chemical analysis. Prof. Haines was in court and when he stood up the detective identified him.

Judge Macon, of counsel for the accused, caused a sensation at this point by pouring some of the liquid out of the bottle into a glass and drinking of it.

"Humph," ejaculated the lawyer as he turned the liquid over to the jury for inspection. After the 12 men had smelt of the poison, the glass was handed to Dr. Graves, who sniffed it several times and then remarked with a laugh "no whisky about that, sure." The examination of Dr. Sewell lasted all morning.

ATTORNEY GENERAL MILLER

His Annual Report Submitted to Congress.

The New Courts Reviewed and Some Suggestions Made as to Methods of Doing Business.

Washington, Dec. 11.—The annual report of Attorney General Miller was submitted to congress to-day. It reviews the business of the United States supreme court and devotes a chapter to the circuit court of appeals, which, he says, has been organized in each circuit and is ready for business, although the additional circuit judge in each circuit has not yet been appointed.

It was found that the court could be organized and such business as might be offered could be transacted without such judges, and their appointment was, therefore, delayed until such appointments could be acted upon by the senate.

It is necessary, he says, that some provision be made for the care of the business of the government in the circuit court of appeals. In each circuit there are several districts and of course, government cases will be carried by writ of error or appeal from each of such districts into the circuit court of appeals.

The law as it stands, authorizes and requires no one to appear for the government in such court. He suggests that each district attorney be required to follow and care for the cases from his district in the court of appeals. He also favors the appointment of deputy clerks of these courts.

In regard to the business of the court of claims, the attorney general says that the business has increased twenty-fold since 1880, and yet the force has not increased at all, and he, therefore, advises that the working capacity of the court be largely increased. He says it is also necessary that some provision shall be made for the representation of the interests of the government before the board of appraisers in customs cases appealed from the collector to the board of appraisers. He adds, however, that in the absence of any provision for attorneys before that board of appraisers, the attorney general has taken the responsibility of directing such service to be performed by the most convenient district attorney.

He invites attention to a special report on the subject of Indian depredation claims and shows the importance of assistance in the conduct of that business. These claims aggregate $20,031,754.

Officers Elected.

The North Side G. A. R., John M. Scott post, has elected the following officers for the ensuing year:

Post Commander—J. C. Laney.
S. Vice Commander—S. G. Small.
J. Vive Commander—A. F. Hale.
Surgeon—Dr. Carrothers.
Q. M.—Simpson Harris.
Officer of Day—L. Shawl.
Officer of Guard—James Baker.

The post is in a flourishing condition.

Swearing Off.

During the past few days several hard drinkers, including a well-known lawyer, a prominent business man and one or two sons of toil, have gone before Justice Orford and made a solemn and binding oath not to touch, taste or handle strong drink. A series of temperance lectures is said to have caused this reformation. This, however, is often done by victims of the wine cup.

Died.

Levi Bright, another of the pioneer residents of this county, died Wednesday morning after an illness of ever two years. When he moved to his present home in Marion township there was but 12 white families in the entire county. He was born in Fairfield county, on May 1st, 1831. He leaves a widow and nine children to mourn his death. The funeral services will be held at the Bright church on Saturday morning.

Be regular in your habits.

Wear woolen clothing the year round.

Do not work immediately after eating.

Keep the feet comfortable and well protected.

If possible, go to bed at the same hour every night.

In malarious districts do your walking in the middle of the day.

Keep your blood warm and circulating. You can do this best by exercise and pure stimulant. Do not indulge in stimulants, although it is desirable to do so, unless you know they are pure and medicinal.

Bear in mind the unquestionable fact that there is no stimulant so good as whiskey, and only one good medicinal whiskey, namely, Duffy's Pure Malt. No matter what your druggist or grocer may say, bear in mind the above great truths, and you will be healthier, live longer and feel happier.

City Auditor's Office.

Toledo, O., Nov. 20, 1891.

The committee on ways and means of the Common Council of the city of Toledo, Ohio, and the undersigned invite sealed proposals at this office to at 7 o'clock p. m. for the purchase of street improvement bonds, to the amount of Twenty-one Thousand Eight Hundred and Thirty-seven 42-100 ($21,837 42-100) Dollars, bearing date Nov. 16, 1891, and payable as follows: Nine Hundred and Thirty-seven 42-100 ($937 42-100) Dollars on the 16th day of May, 1892, and Eleven Hundred Dollars at the expiration of every six months thereafter, to and including November 16, 1901. At the office of the City Treasurer, with interest at the rate of five (5) per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually at the same place as evidenced by coupons to be attached to said bonds.

Said improvement bonds are issued pursuant to section 2704 to 2707 of the revised statutes of the state of Ohio, and also under an ordinance of the common council of the city of Toledo, Ohio, "To provide for the issue of improvement bonds to pay the cost and expense of the improvement of St. Clair street and Finlay Place, from Madison St. to Junction of Summit St."—Passed Nov. 2nd, 1891.

The denomination of these bonds will be first payment two bonds of $468.71 each, and thereafter two of $500 each payment.

The said bonds will be sold at not less than par and accrued interest, to the highest bidder.

Bidders will be required to state the gross amount they will pay for the bonds besides the accrued interest to date of delivery at Toledo, Ohio. They will also be required to deposit with each bid an amount of money or a certified check on some responsible bank equal to at least five (5) per centum of the par value of the bonds, so bid for, as a guarantee of good faith, and that the bid so made (if successful) will be fulfilled in accordance with the terms thereof, and the requirements of the law and ordinances. When the bids have been examined, and the award made according to law, all monies or checks deposited as guarantees shall be returned to the depositor, or held by the city auditor subject to his call, except that of the successful bidder, which shall be held and considered, and accepted as part payment of the bonds so awarded or sold, but should there be any repudiation of the contract or agreement, or refusal to accept and pay for the bonds so sold then and in that case the deposit shall be forfeited to the city of Toledo, and shall become the property of said city, in compensation for loss and expenses attending the sale of said bonds and as liquidated damages for repudiation of bid. And no bid will be received if not accompanied by money or check aforesaid.

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids.

Proposals should be addressed to the "Auditor of the city of Toledo, Ohio," and be indorsed "Proposals for improvement bonds."

W. T. WALKER, City Auditor.

Wheat Quotations for the Day—Price Current for Produce and Other Articles

The Government Crop Report.

Washington, Dec. 10.—The returns of the statistical reporters of the department of agriculture show that the condition of growing wheat is 85.3.

The returns showing condition of the coming crops of winter grains are not generally favorable. On the Atlantic coast some injury is reported on early sown areas from the Hessian fly. The season was not favorable for seeding in the south on account of continued dry weather, and germination was slow from the same cause. The rains in the late autumn have improved the prospect. In the western states the seeding was late, the seed bed hard and cloddy, germination was slow and growth unfavorable until November, when material improvement was seen in most fields. In some districts the Hessian fly made its appearance, causing some damage.

The average condition of the crop is 85.3. The figures for the principal states on the great wheat belt being—Ohio, 80; Michigan, 92; Indiana, 81; Illinois, 80; Iowa, 92; Missouri, 73; Kansas, 75; Nebraska, 93; California, 97. The average for New York, 97; Pennsylvania, 92; Maryland, 87; Virginia, 86; Georgia, 96; Texas, 70.

The condition of rye is a little higher than that of wheat, making an average of 88.8.

Crops in Italy.

Rome, Dec. 5.—The department of agriculture announces that telegraphic reports from all parts of Italy place the crop of rye for 1891 at 19,100,000 bu, against 17,800,000 in 1890.

This completes the reports of the crops for 1891, which may be summarized as follows: Corn fair; wheat good; rye, wine and oil, most abundant, and the other minor crops satisfactory.

Chicago Bulletin.

The average condition of wheat in Michigan is reported at 93 per cent. as compared with 102 per cent. one year ago. During the month of November 1,638,968 bushels were marketed.

Stocks in Europe and America.

The following table exhibits the approximate available supply of flour and wheat in the principal European countries on December 1, as collected and carefully compiled by the Liverpool Corn Trade News, and specially cabled to the Daily Trade Bulletin, compared with the returns on November 1:

London wheat market steadier, and 3 pence per quarter higher. Corn turn dearer. Weather boisterous. Liverpool wheat 1-2 pence per 100 pounds higher.

The receipts of wheat to-day at seven principal western points are 339,142 bus. in excess of the corresponding Friday in 1890.

The export clearances yesterday at four Atlantic ports were 633,047 bus. of wheat and flour, with out Philadelphia, to an aggregate of 850,000 bus. The export of corn was 158,761 bus. and of oats 26,763 bus.

The English markets as reported herein are stronger and somewhat higher. Corn lower.

The Government Report.

The government report of the growing wheat is a surprise to us, and to the trade generally. Our conviction in respect to the situation, and the state agent's report of the Ohio condition, prepared us for a lower average than 85.3 per cent. It is, to our mind, a better report than was generally expected and indicates a steady improvement in the crop. The weather leaves nothing to be desired and a continuance of it through the month will go far in preparing the plant for cold weather and March vicissitudes. There is a difference of 5 per cent. in the Ohio condition and the state report, which was .75, and we quite indorse the government report for this state. But Michigan at 92 is above our anticipations, while Indiana and Illinois are about what was expected.

Wheat in Farmers' Hands in the Northwest.

The Minneapolis Record says the three northwest states have sold 79,000,000 bu. of wheat out of the last crop, as much from August 1 to December 8 as in the previous entire crop year.

There may not be 50 per cent of the crop remaining in farmers' hands, but enough to justify the large expectations of the crop. There is no doubt but the crop in those states was very large.

The Flour Market.

Minneapolis flour report herein gives a dull market, and New York also reports a dull market. While the export movement is large, it is reported that a portion of it is on consignment. There is a better demand for wheat abroad than for flour.

The Wheat Movement.

The receipts to-day show a better aggregate than yesterday, but there has been quite a falling off. The export movement is again large to-day, and in flour and wheat is 100,000 bushels in excess of western receipts at seven points, which represent very nearly the original movement.

American markets have been more active to-day and prices at Chicago have been quite unsteady. At one time May wheat there was was 1c higher, but other markets did not fully sympathize with it. It was a soda water fizzle and had no basis—simply a fight between room traders—longs and shorts. The government report offered no encouragement. English markets were better. The advance was lost as fast as it was gained, with later unsteadiness.

Corn at Chicago has been higher and firm. In New York generally steady.

New York December wheat closed 1-4c and May 5-8c lower. December corn 2c and May 3-8c lower. December oats 1-2c lower.

In Chicago December wheat closed 3-4c and May 7-8c lower. December corn 1 1-2c and May 1-8c lower. December oats 1 1-2c lower.

London, Liverpool, Berlin, and Antwerp reported closing higher.

In Toledo there has been quite an increase in the trading in wheat futures, especially in the earlier part of the day. There was a good deal of animation, and the price of May wheat was advanced 1c to $1 04. When western markets began to squat of course our prices weakened. The advance was not only lost, but the price closed at a loss of 1-4c as compared with yesterday. On the call cash wheat sold at 96 3-4c and May at $1 03 3-8 to $1 03 1-2. After the call December sold at 96 1-2 and closed at 96c, a loss of 1-4c to 3-8c. January at 98 3-4c to 98c, closing at 97 1-2. May $1 03 3-8 to $1 04 and closed at $1 02 3-4.

There was a good demand for cash wheat and rather freely met. No. 2 soft sold at 96 1-2 to 97 1-4c, and closed at 96c, a loss of 3-8c. No. 3 soft at 92 to 94c, according to location. Nothing in other grades.

Corn—No. 2 for January at 46 1-2 to 47c, closing at 45 3-4c. No. 3 at 45 1-2c. No. 4 at 42 1-2 to 43 1-2c.

Rye—No. 2 at 92 to 91 1-2c. Dressed hogs at $4 25. Clover seed was about steady and only moderately active. Prime for cash at $5 35; December, $5 35; March, $5 45; No. 2, at $5 15 to $5 20.

Markets by Telegraph.

London, Dec. 11.—1:00 p. m.—Wheat cargoes off coast at opening, quiet and steady; maize nothing offering. Wheat and maize cargoes on passage and for shipment, steadier.

TRADE WITH GERMANY.

Reciprocity Agreement Made Public.

German Sugar Comes in Free in Return for Privileges Granted to Americans.

Washington, Dec. 11.—The state department to-day made public the reciprocity agreement entered into with Germany, whereby the sugar from that country secures free admission into the United States and the American products named obtain admission into Germany at reduced rates.

The tables show a reduction of German import duties on wheat of 30 per cent., rye 30 per cent., oats 47 1-2 per cent., corn 20 per cent., butter 15 per cent., salted and pickled pork and beef 15 per cent. and wheat flour and corn meal 30 per cent.

This agreement was submitted to the German reichstag on the 7th inst., and if approved by that body will go into effect February 1.

SOME SPICY CURRENT TOPICS

Of Local and Neighborhood Interest.

Notes and Comments on Incidents Occurring Daily—Prepared for Readers Who are Hustled for Time.

SUIT TO FORECLOSE.

Barrow S. Newcomb instituted proceedings in common pleas court to-day against John Hass to foreclose a mortgage to satisfy a claim of $435.74.

WANTS THE OBSTRUCTIONS REMOVED.

The city of Toledo filed proceedings against Mary C. Daniels for a mandatory injunction requiring the immediate removal of a stairway, an alleged obstruction of the sidewalk on Cherry street.

MOTHERS' MEETINGS.

The non-partisan W. C. T. U. will hereafter hold mothers' meetings at the Helping Hand mission every week. The first meeting will be held next Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. There will be devotional exercises, interesting talks and an hour spent at sewing.

THE DEMURRER SUBMITTED.

The demurrer to the indictment in the case of the state against Foster E. Simmons, charged with altering the date on a railroad ticket, was submitted to the court in Judge Harmon's room yesterday afternoon, and taken under consideration before making an entry.

MOTION TO DISMISS THE CASE.

The evidence in the case of Bruce Brownlee against Berdan & Co. was all in at 10 o'clock this morning, whereupon, Mr. Barton Smith, attorney for the defense, submitted a verbal motion requesting the court to instruct the jury to return a verdict for the defendant. The matter was submitted.

SUSPICIOUS DEATH.

Mrs. William Reed, aged 17 years, living on South street, died this morning under circumstances that were suspicious, and some of her friends thought that a criminal operation had been performed. Coroner Roulet was called, and after viewing the body was of the opinion that nothing criminal had been done. He is holding the inquest this afternoon.

BACK FROM CINCINNATI.

This morning L. G. Richardson, Chief Wall, and others interested in the fire department, returned from Cincinnati, where they have been looking into the merits of the new machine which the city proposes purchasing. They were well pleased with the engine, and it is probable it will be secured. There is said to be a combination or trust among the manufacturers, which may increase the price somewhat.

DAMAGE SUIT FOR $10,000.

In common pleas court to-day Jermaine B. Witherbee, administratrix of the estate of Frederick W. Witherbee, deceased, instituted proceedings against the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton Railroad company to recover $10,000 damages, for the death of her intestate.

The suit grows out of the disastrous wreck which occurred on the C., H. & D. by a tail end collision near Cincinnati, January 18, 1890, wherein Frederick W. Witherbee was burned to death.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.

William Ruchte to George W. Le Beau, lot 4, Betts' addition, $1,035.

THE R. M. P. A.

The annual meeting of the Retail Merchants' Protective association was held at Rochester, N. Y., on Monday of this week, at which time the old officers were re-elected, being as follows: Geo. E. St. John, Port Clinton, O., president and treasurer; R. W. Simpson, general manager; Geo. H. Estabrooke, secretary, and Chas. A. Duran, general attorney. The association's Toledo office at room 19, Bee building, is now open for business, and the company starts out with the most flattering prospects, they having already a very large list of subscribers for their service composed of the best merchants in the city.

THE OVERMAN MATTER.

The following special to the Cleveland Plain Dealer was received from Washington last night:

There was nothing new to-day in the case of Major Overman. Acting Judge Advocate General Leiber is examining the papers. Many comparisons must be made and it will require at least three or four days for him to complete his examination and prepare his report to the secretary of war. A special from Baltimore says that Major Overman refuses positively to talk, but says at the proper time the seeming irregularities will be shown to be simply clerical errors made during his absence.

NEW MOTIONS.

The Toledo Electric Street Railway company v Toledo Consolidated Street Railway company, motion of A. E. Lang to strike out parts of amended petition.

The Toledo Electric Street Railway company v Toledo Consolidated Street Railway company, to strike out parts of amended petition.

The Toledo Electric Street Rairway company v Toledo Consolidated Street Railway company, motion of Wm. Hale to strike out parts of amended petition.

Margaret Harrington v Michigan Central Railroad company, motion to hear petition of error.

Wm. J. Parks v C. J. Peet et al., motion for appointment of receiver.

Mary J. Jeremy v John Jeremy, motion for alimony pendente lite.

MISS FLORENCE BALGARNIE.

Brains, a semi-monthly publication in the interest of authors, journalists and newspaper men and women generally, has this to say of the charming English woman who made so many friends for herself in Toledo last summer:

Miss Florence Balgarnie, the young English woman who lectures on temperance, social reform, literature and woman suffrage, has been greeted by large audiences and great enthusiasm in every American city in which she has appeared. The topics on which she speaks are those in which there is a widespread interest, and Miss Balgarnie's eloquence and magnetic presence have done more than the mere subject matter of her lectures to win for herself friends on every side.

Miss Balgarnie will visit our city again some time after the holidays, and there is talk of asking her to give one or more lectures here. Those who were so fortunate as to hear her lecture on "Englishwomen in Public Life," and her parlor lecture, on Charlotte Bronte, will be glad to learn of this movement.

LOST IN A GALE.

London, Dec. 11.—The Times' dispatch from Singapore reports the loss of a large number of Chinese vessels during a gale at Hong Kong. Hundreds of native sailors were drowned.

Fine Eating Apples, 25c peck, at E. A. ROOD'S.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

Sheriff Stuart took the prisoners to Columbus to-day.

Northern Ohio Medical society meets at Fremont next Thursday afternoon, and evening.

Late yesterday afternoon Judge Harmon sentenced J. J. O'Malley to two years in the penitentiary. O'Malley was convicted on the charge of burglary and larceny.

A gymnasium entertainment will be given at the East Toledo Y. M. C. A. rooms in the Weber block to-morrow night by the senior class of the regular organization.

Judge Malcolm Kelly has received his commission and will take the oath of office and assume duties soon. The law provides he must qualify within 20 days after the date of the commission.

Judge Mills has been the subject of a good many compliments on the judicial ability, dignity and impartiality with which he has presided during the present term of court. His record on the bench, though short, is one upon which he can in future look back with justifiable satisfaction and self-congratulation.—Ottawa County News.

New York, Dec. 11.—Money 2 1-2 and 3 per cent. Exchange steady; posted rates $4.83@4.85 1-2; actual rates $4.82 for 60 days and $4.84 3-4 for demand.

Governments steady; currency 6s, $1.08 1-2 bid; 4s, coup., $1.17 1-2 bid; extended 2s, registered, $1 bid.

The stock market opened active and irregular, but the changes from last night's figures were only slight. Richmond & Terminal was the special feature of the first hour, advancing 1 3-8 per cent on a heavy buying. The dealings in the rest of the list, although quite active, did not impart a strong tone to values and prices changed but little. In fact most of the list was slightly lower. In the second hour there was considerable selling of Missouri Pacific, and under its lead the market declined steadily to midday, when values were off 1-8 to 1 1-4 per cent. At this writing the market is dull.

HE DIED A HERO'S DEATH.

Brave Charles Kimmel Battled for Other's Lives

And Sacrificed His Own in the Overpowering Smoke.

A Touching Incident of the Awfu Louisville Catastrophy Revealed by the Workmen at the Ruins.

Louisville, Dec. 11.—While the workmen were engaged in extricating the body of Hulsmeier from the ruins of Wednesday's fire James Mudweiler, who had been rumored as dead, walked into the place and became an interested spectator to the work. While Mudweiler was watching the gang of workmen in the front part of the building another gang was digging for his supposed dead body in the rear.

The position in which the body of Charles Kimmel, the foreman of the fourth floor of the candy factory, and son of one of the proprietors, was found, showed a heroic feature of the shocking story. When the mass of brick and ashes were removed it was found that the body of Kimmel as standing upright, his head slightly bent forward, his shoulders almost square, his left leg straight and his right knee bent, and the foot planted a few inches in the front of the body. The attitude was that of the first motion of walking. Kimmel's right arm was clasped about the waist of Clara Rauch, one of the candy wrappers. The left arm of the girl was under the right arm of the man, and the fingers of her left hand tightly clutched his waist.

The body of Ida Belle Parker, a candy-wrapper, was on Kimmel's left. The girl was in a stooping position, with both her arms wound about the man's left thigh. Kimmel's left hand was on the girl's shoulder. It was evident that Kimmel was in the act of carrying the two girls from the building when all were suffocated by the smoke and the flames arising from the burning pyrotechnics.

A RARE CHANCE.

For the ladies, and one seldom, if ever, equaled, may now be found at Harley's. It applies to husbands as well, and reminds one, as a prominent lady buyer remarked this morning, of the bargains occasionally picked up in New York and Boston. He is closing out a shipment of furs, gloves, capes, robes, muffs, seal caps, etc., at his own prices, and at the manufacturer's loss. It is the chance for cheap and elegant Christmas selections.

MARRIED HER OWN NEPHEW

And Poisoned Herself When the Discovery Was Made.

A Strange Romance With a Sad Sequel Which Dates Back to the Days Before the War.

St. Marys, Dec. 11.—Mrs. H. Wentworth, of St. Joe, a small village in Mercer county, committed suicide yesterday by poisoning.

The circumstances surrounding her death are very remarkable, for connected with her demise is a story which sounds more like a romance than a fact.

Mrs. Wentworth's name before marriage was Segrove and before the civil war broke out she resided in Texas with her parents and relatives.

Shortly after the rebellion the happy household was disrupted and when quite young she left her native state and came north, settling a few years ago in the above village.

A little over a year ago a wealthy Texan, giving his name as Howard Wentworth, met the widow and becoming enamored of her married her. Everything progressed satisfactorily. A few days ago a friend of Wentworth's called and in the ordinary course of conversation their family history was discussed.

The extraordinary fact developed that Mrs. Segrove had married her own nephew. Startled at the disclosure a legal separation was at once applied for but the awful mistake so worked on her that she ended her existence in the above tragic manner.

THOUGHT IT WAS DYNAMITE.

A Great Scare in the House of Representatives.

A Steam Pipe Bursts and Causes a Great Commotion Among Members and Spectators.

Washington, Dec. 11.—A steam pipe burst in the southeast corner of the hall of the house of representatives a few minutes before 12 o'clock to-day, causing great commotion.

The house was not in session, but many of the members were at their desks and the floor was crowded with visitors.

The report was very loud and the first thought was that some crank had set off a dynamite bomb. Members and others who were in that portion of the hall tumbled over each other to get out but no one was hurt.

Several ladies were sitting in the private gallery immediately over the pipe which burst. They beat a hasty retreat. The steam began to rise in dense volumes but in a short while every one knew what the trouble was.

Miss Noteman will take a prominent part in the exercises. She was formerly a Toledo girl and will be better remembered as the "child elocutionist." Her many Toledo friends will be pleased to learn of her success.

Miss Mamie Montgomery, of 245 Maumee avenue, was pleasantly surprised by a number of her friends last evening. Card playing and dancing was indulged in until a late hour, after which a dainty supper was served. The guests who enjoyed this pleasant evening were the Misses Davenport, Tucker, Collins, Richards, Baumbach, Magim, Hall and Lettel and Messrs. Tucker, Corell, Knight, Blossom, Brown, Trudeau, Armstrong, Purney, Deidrick and Lettel.

Miss Nellie Pratt, of Oakwood avenue, gave an enjoyable progressive euchre party last evening to a number of her friends. Dainty refreshments were served during the evening. The first prize, lady's, an after-dinner cup and saucer, was won by Miss Effie Parmer; consolation, Miss Caneff. Gentlemen's first prize, an olive dish, Mr. F. T. Johnson; consolation, Mr. Shaffmaster. Among the guests were the Misses Parmer, Caneff, Deardorf, Willard, Turley and Messrs. Johnson, Shaffmaster, Graves, Marsh and Willard.

The ladies auxiliary of the Order of Railway Conductors, Banner Division, No. 6, proved elegant entertainers last evening at Odd Fellows' temple, on the occasion of their first annual ball and reception. There was a large turn-out of conductors and their friends, and a more pleasant time could scarcely be had. The ladies comprised the reception, while Messrs. Talty, Purrett, Osborn, and Loop managed the floor. A fine supper was served in the banquet room, and the long program of dances gave opportunity to all to trip the light fantastic. Mrs. James McMillian was at the head of affairs, and with her helpers is entitled to great credit for the success attending the first party.

THE JACKSON-MARTIN TROUBLE.

To the Editor: I wish to correct the account of the trouble between A. A. Jackson and David Martin.

The facts are these: Jackson was struck with a wooden bar instead of an iron crow-bar, and in the presence of five or six men, who immediately picked him up and carried him in and placed him near the stove, where he was made as comfortable as possible under the circumstances. Dr. Haag was called, and he advised that the man be allowed to remain there until 1 or 2 o'clock in the afternoon, when he was removed to his boarding house, 311 Morris street.

The fact of the matter is he received the same care and attention that any man in the department would have received under the circumstances.

A. L. BROWER.

A Good Doctor

MOTHER—NONE BETTER. See what she has in her favor. She's on the spot, she sees the first symptoms; she has sympathy. The little sufferer is bone of her bone and flesh of her flesh. Good points, every one. Add another—the right remedy—and you have as much certainty as can be had in this world that Baby will recover. Dr. Hand has provided the remedy. In Pennsylvania, where he is best known, almost every mother will testify to this. Happy, healthy children is the evidence they offer.

A little Book, illustrated, full of sense and suggestion, will tell you more of Dr. Hand's work and his remedies. Any Mother can have the book sent to her free. Address

City Auditor's Office.

Toledo, O., Nov. 20, 1891.

The committee on ways and means of the Common Council of the city of Toledo, Ohio, and the undersigned invite sealed proposals at this office to at 7 o'clock p. m. for the purchase of street improvement bonds, to the amount of Twenty-one Thousand Eight Hundred and Thirty-seven 42-100 ($21,837 42-100) Dollars, bearing date Nov. 16, 1891, and payable as follows: Nine Hundred and Thirty-seven 42-100 ($937 42-100) Dollars on the 16th day of May, 1892, and Eleven Hundred Dollars at the expiration of every six months thereafter, to and including November 16, 1901. At the office of the the City Treasurer, with interest at the rate of five (5) per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually at the same place as evidenced by coupons to be attached to said bonds.

Said improvement bonds are issued pursuant to section 2704 to 2707 of the revised statutes of the state of Ohio, and also under an ordinance of the common council of the city of Toledo, Ohio, "To provide for the issue of improvement bonds to pay the cost and expense of the improvement of St. Clair street and Finlay Place, from Madison St. to Junction of Summit St."—Passed Nov. 2nd, 1891.

The denomination of these bonds will be first payment two bonds of $468.71 each, and thereafter two of $500 each payment.

The said bonds will be sold at not less than par and accrued interest, to the highest bidder.

Bidders will be required to state the gross amount they will pay for the bonds besides the accrued interest to date of delivery at Toledo, Ohio. They will also be required to deposit with each bid an amount of money or a certified check on some responsible bank equal to at least five (5) per centum of the par value of the bonds, so bid for, as a guarantee of good faith, and that the bid so made (if successful) will be fulfilled in accordance with the terms thereof, and the requirements of the law and ordinances. When the bids have been examined, and the award made according to law, all monies or checks deposited as guarantees shall be returned to the depositor, or held by the city auditor subject to his call, except that of the successful bidder, which shall be held and considered, and accepted as part payment of the bonds so awarded or sold, but should there be any repudiation of the contract or agreement, or refusal to accept and pay for the bonds so sold, then and in that case the deposit shall be forfeited to the city of Toledo, and shall become the property of said city, in compensation for loss and expenses attending the sale of said bonds and as liquidated damages for repudiation of bid. And no bid will be received if not accompanied by money or check aforesaid.

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids.

Proposals should be addressed to the "Auditor of the city of Toledo, Ohio," and be indorsed "Proposals for improvement bonds."

THE WAY TO GO.

You have seen California frequently mentioned in newspapers and magazines. Perhaps a friend has been there and writes enthusiastic letters back home about the climate and the fruits. It makes you anxious to see the country for yourself.

The time to go is in the fall and winter. Then work here is least pressing and California climate is most pleasing. The way to go is via Santa Fe route, on one of that line's popular, personally-conducted parties, leaving Chicago every Saturday evening and leaving Kansas City every Sunday morning.

Special agents and porters in attendance. Pullman tourist sleepers are used, furnished with bedding, mattresses, toilet articles, etc. Second-class tickets honored. Write to Geo. E. Gilman, Michigan Passenger Agent Santa Fe route, for folder describing these excursions.

A FARMER RELEASED

FROM ENTIRE LOSS OF VOICE.

Catarrhal Aphonia the Result of Chronic Catarrh.

BETTER LATE THAT NEVER.

Shellsburg, Bedford Co., Pa.

The Peruna Medicine Co.—I was a sufferer from catarrh in my head and throat. I doctored with one of the best physicians in our place for that terrible disease and found no relief. But in 1883 I lost my speech, and was not able to do any kind of work for nearly three months. I could neither eat nor sleep. Pe-ru-na did wonders for me, and now I am in better health than I have been in ten years. Yours truly,

ISAAC NICODEMUS.

Loss of voice in cases of catarrh is due to an extension of the disease to the larynx. In the progress of catarrh on its way from the throat to the lungs the first prominent symptom is hoarseness, which shows that the disease has reached the larynx and vocal chords.

Symptoms of catarrh of the respiratory tract differ according to the part affected. If the catarrh is confined to the nose the symptoms will be sneezing and mucous discharges, or the formation of dry scabs corresponding to the stage of the disease. When in the pharynx it causes hawking, enlarged follicles and tonsils, and sometimes deafness; in the larynx it produces hoarseness, and often entire loss of voice, as in the above case. As soon as the catarrh reaches the trachea and bronchial tubes, cough, with abundant mucous expectoration, ensues. Upon reaching the lungs catarrh speedily causes consumption, and all of the symptoms of that dread disease follow sooner or later. Catarrh also attacks the urinary tract, producing in the kidneys "Bright's disease, in the bladder chronic cystitis, and in the uretha small, frequent and painful urinary passages. Pe-ru-na is a specific for catarrh wherever located and in all stages.

A pamphlet on the cause and cure of all catarrhal diseases and consumption sent free to any address by The Peruna Drug Manufacturing Co., Columbus, O.

PLAYING IN HARD LUCK.

A Society Youth With Many Troubles.

E. Shepard White, Acquitted on the Charge of Forgery Only to be Arrested for Embezzlement.

Washington, Dec. 11.—B. Shepard White, the society youth who has been on trial in the criminal court of this city for the past few days, on a charge of forgery, was acquitted yesterday afternoon, but was immediately taken into custody to answer an indictment for embezzlement.

White during his confinement repeatedly refused to bathe in the prison tub, and as a punishment was kept on a bread and water diet for a time.

After his acquittal yesterday and upon his rearrest to answer the second charge against him his attorney secured from the presiding judge an order prohibiting compulsory baths in White's case, thereby allowing him to use a basin in his cell as a cleanser.

EVILS OF BEING FAT.

Fat people are less able to resist the attacks of disease or the shock of injuries and operations than the moderately thin. In ordinary every-day life they are at a decided disadvantage; their respiratory muscles can not so easily act; their heart is often handicapped by the deposit on it; and the least exertion throws them into a perspiration. This last fact is curiously misunderstood; it is almost universally looked upon as an actual "melting" of the subcutaneous fat, and is considered to be nature's method of getting rid of the superfluity. But this is not correct, for in spite of its greasy appearance, sweat only contains a trace of fatty matter, rarely more than .01 per cent., and this comes, of course, from the cells of the sudoriparous glands and primarily from certain constituents in the blood. A person whose limbs and body are covered with adipose tissue is in the position of a man carrying a heavy burden and too warmly clothed.

CHILDREN TEASE FOR IT.

Gents' fancy Night Robes for Christmas NEUHAUSEL BROS'.

A big crop of old maids seems imminent, judging from statistics. If the statistics of Great Britain are correct, the excess of women and girls over men and boys in that country is about 900,000, an increase in ten years of about 200,000. In Germany the number of females in excess of males is about 1,000,000. In Sweden and Norway the "weaker sex" is in the majority by about 250; in Austro-Hungary by 600,000, and in Denmark by 60,000. In the United States, Canada and Australia the males are in the majority. In this country there are about 1,000,000 more men than women.
